Convention Opens

Eight-Hour Day Is Being Urged By Labor Group

The adoption of the eight-hour, five-and-a-half-day week in the post-war period; a retiring age on pension of 55 years for all industry; vacation with pay, and the enactment of legislation similar to the Wagner Act in the United States, are some of the resolutions that will come before the convention of the Alberta Federation of Labor which opened Monday at the Macdonald hotel in the chair.

More than 100 delegates were in attendance when Mr. Farmllo called the meeting to order. Hon. Ernest Manning, premier of Alberta, in a short speech welcomed the delegates on behalf of the province, and Mayor John W. Fry extended greeting on behalf of the city of Edmonton.

External delegates to the convention include: W. D. King, deputy minister of trade and industry; Clayton Adams, industrial relations officer, provincial government; J. W. Barnett, Alberta Teachers' Alliance; and H. E. Nichols, secretary, Alberta Farmers' Union.

Other resolutions to come before the convention will recommend payment of old age pensions at 60 years, with 15 years residential qualifications; no deductions be made from incomes under $500; and that the pension

R.C.A.F. Liberator Reported Overdue

OTTAWA, Feb. 21.—(CP)—An R.C.A.F. Liberator bomber with six men aboard is overdue and believed to be down in the Atlantic Ocean off the east coast, it was learned unofficially today.

Those aboard the aircraft included P.O. David Griffin, Toronto newspaperman now with R.C.A.F. public relations, whose next-of-kin has been notified. Names of the others will be made public shortly.

No official statement was available here but it was presumed that aircraft of the eastern air command, and possibly naval units, are searching the area for the missing bomber.

Heaviest Snowfall Of Season Sunday

Heaviest snowfall of the season was registered over the week-end when three and four-tenths inches of snow fell in the city. The first heavy snowfall of the winter which occurred around Dec. 24 measured over two inches and at the beginning of the New Year another fall measured 3.2 inches. The latest snowfall began at 9:25 p.m. Saturday, and continued intermittently until 1:53 a.m. Monday.

Although the present snowfall is the heaviest of the season temperatures were much milder than during the previous falls. The maximum temperature Sunday was 25 degrees and the overnight low was zero.

From 8 a.m. Sunday until 8 p.m. a wind averaging 17 miles an hour blew continuously. At 8:30 a.m. Monday both the wind and the snow had stopped and the temperature registered zero.

Forecast according to weather officials is "partly cloudy with higher temperatures."

Gets Acclamation

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(CP)—J. B. Hynd, Labor, today was elected member of parliament for the Attercliffe division of Sheffield by acclamation. He succeeds C. H. Wilson, Labor, who retired.

Sink Two Jap Ships

CHUNGKING, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Allied headquarters announced today the sinking of two Japanese vessels and damage to another in scattered American air attacks Friday and Saturday off the coasts of China and French Indo-China.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—Japan removed her chiefs of staff of the Imperial army and navy today on the heels of the American raid on Truk and the successful invasion of Eniwetok Atoll in the Marshall Islands, according to an official Tokyo broadcast recorded here by British United Press.

Though the announcements of the shifts in command made no mention of either Truk or the Marshalls, Japanese imperial headquarters almost simultaneously issued a communique acknowledging that American task forces had sunk 18 ships, only one fewer than claimed by U.S. Pacific fleet headquarters, and destroyed 120 planes in the raid on Truk, the Japanese "Pearl Harbor."

The official Domei agency said that Premier Gen. Hideki Tojo had taken over the additional post of chief of the army general staff and Navy Minister Shigetaro Shimada, the additional post of chief of the naval general staff.

Both Field Marshal Gen. Sugiyama, former army chief of staff, and Fleet Admiral Osami Nagano, former naval chief of staff, were "relieved of their posts," Domei quoted war and navy ministry announcements as saying.

EMPEROR ACTS
Emperor Hirohito "personally" installed Tojo in his new post and "personally" appointed Shimada to the naval command, Domei said.

In addition to premier, Tojo also is war minister, head of the munitions ministry and governor of the Imperial Rule Association, Japan's mass totalitarian party.

The announcements of the shifts in command followed recent propaganda warnings from Japan.

C.C.L. Chief Again Lauds Labor Code

WINNIPEG, Feb. 21.—(CP)—A. R. Mosher of Ottawa, president of the Canadian Congress of Labor, said here yesterday that the labor relations code tabled in the house of commons last week contained "the best regulations with respect to labor that had ever been brought into this country."

Addressing a mass meeting of trade unionists, Mr. Mosher said that the government deserves a good deal of credit for its action and those who drafted the code made a good job of it. "We had no labor policy, except haphazard labor regulations until last week."

As a result of widespread protests the government had promised to make some changes in the new wartime wages control order, he said. "We don't know what the changes are but they could not be any worse than the present obnoxious features in the order."

Grant Continuance To Charlie Chaplin Until Next Friday

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Charlie Chaplin today was granted a continuance until next Friday to a continuance of a charge of violating the Mann Act and he and six co-defendants charged with conspiring to deprive Joan Berry of her constitutional rights were permitted by Judge J. F. T. O'Connor to delay until March 9 in entering pleas.

Lonergan's Trial Opens Wednesday

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Wayne Lonergan must face trial Wednesday, as scheduled, for first degree murder in the slaying of his wife, Judge John J. Freschi ruled today. Freschi denied a formal motion in court for another adjournment of the trial, already twice postponed, and then again rejected the application at a private conference in chambers.

Prominent Citizen Dies at Didsbury

Albert Clifford Fisher, 55, died suddenly at his residence at Didsbury, Saturday. He had conducted an insurance and implement business at Didsbury and was a prominent citizen. Mr. Fisher was a member of the town council and secretary of the Didsbury school.

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 21.—Germany probably will launch a new U-boat offensive—possibly a final all-out effort to shatter the shipping lanes across the North Atlantic—as the time for invasion draws near, Allied naval quarters here reported today.

Allied naval men reported that it was not impossible that shipping losses will increase soon, at least for a short period. A number of German submarines reportedly have gone to sea from Baltic ports during the past few days, and it is believed that they will be joined by many others on the supply routes which have become of the most vital importance with the approach of the assault on the continent.

According to the most reliable information, Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz has had possibly 200 to 300 U-boats being refitted during the past month or two, primarily at Baltic ports where Allied bombers are unable to strike with assured results.

This refitting is believed to include technical improvements designed to enable the submarines better to evade the Allied super-detector apparatus, and to submerge more quickly to deeper depths and improved anti-aircraft armament.

Graydon Says: Tories Oppose No Wednesday House Sitzings

OTTAWA, Feb. 21.—(CP)—The Progressive Conservative party is opposed to a proposal to dispense with Wednesday sittings of the commons, Gordon Graydon, party house leader, announced today in the house.

He spoke after Prime Minister Mackenzie King moved that house committees be given Wednesday each week as a full day for their work.

Mr. Graydon said there was no assurance the committees would make use of the time and Wednesday, the day in the middle of the week, had always been a busy day in the commons.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—A Soviet dispatch today reported a plot against the life of King Peter of Yugoslavia, and private advices from Cairo said the young monarch was under restrictions so rigid as to constitute virtual imprisonment in his quarters there.

The Russian official news agency Tass said in a Cairo dispatch that four members of Peter's royal guard were arrested on a charge of plotting to assassinate him. It expressed doubt, however, that an actual attempt had been made on his life.

Montreal Tram Strike Is Ended

MONTREAL, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Street-cars and buses operated throughout Montreal today, a development that surprised a good number of residents who went to bed last night believing that another strike of employees of Montreal tramways was on.

A 30-hour strike of 4,000 operators ended late Saturday night, and cars operated normally throughout yesterday. Everything seemed back to normal until mid-evening when a sudden flurry of rumors and conflicting statements gave Montrealers another fit of tram-strike jitters.

Rumors of another strike—it would have been the third in less than a year among tramway employees—were prevalent throughout the city early in the evening but company and union officials denied them.

During the fierce fighting for Attu Island in the Aleutians last

By WALTER CRONKITE

LONDON, Feb. 21.—About 2,000 American planes struck their second staggering blow at Germany in two days today, attacking on a scale equal to the Sunday bombardment that is credited with knocking out one-fourth of Adolf Hitler's fighter plane production.

The systematic destruction of the German air force as a weapon for the last defence of the Reich thundered toward a climax as British, Dominion and American aerial armadas rained an unprecedented weight of explosives on the Nazi homeland.

The repeat performance today by United States forces of the big daylight air attack followed a smashing assault by the R.A.F. and Dominion forces on the industrial centre of Stuttgart, which rocked under the impact of an officially announced 2,000 tons of bombs during the night.

Soon after announcing that 126 German planes were destroyed in the assault on Nazi aircraft centres yesterday, United States headquarters revealed that an equally strong force had returned to hammer targets in northwest Germany today.

At the same time medium bombers attacked the German air field in the Coxyde area of the Belgian coast, and R.A.F. and Royal Australian Mosquitos of Britain's second tactical air force smashed at northern France.

Both operations were covered by Typhoons, and one plane was lost. This was the first announcement.

British in Burma Blast Japs Back

By PRESTON GROVER
NEW DELHI, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Japanese forces who broke through the rear of the British positions on the Arakan front in Burma are steadily being blasted from their jungle foxholes but severe fighting remains before the threat to the Allied supply route is erased. Southeast Asia headquarters said yesterday.

The announcement said British troops are making progress in marching to the relief of the 7th Indian regiment, the forward Allied force cut off when Japanese guerrillas blocked its supply route through Ngakyedauk Pass across the Mayu ridge.

Of the general Arakan situation, the Allied command said that "during the last 48 hours the main Japanese force on the Arakan front has been showing some signs of becoming unco-ordinated in the face of continuous and determined fighting and the growing pressure of our troops."

Nine Planes Forced Down in Denmark

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 21.—(AP)—At least nine planes made forced landings or crashed in Denmark yesterday, Copenhagen dispatches to the Swedish press said today. Nationality of the aircraft was not given.

The planes possibly included some American aircraft participating in yesterday's record operations against Germany.

Minister Here: Says Dominion Might Find Use For Govt. House

The Dominion government "looks favorably" on the use of Government House as a convalescent home for returned men, Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, said here Monday.

The minister returned over the week-end from Ottawa, where he and other provincial public works ministers conferred with Dominion officials regarding 1944 road-building plans.

Regarding Government House, which has been vacant since the first of the year, Mr. Fallow said air force officers have looked over the property, and are quite satisfied that the building and grounds are suitable for use as a convalescent home.

His statement follows: Word has been received from the department of national defence at Ottawa that they look favorably on the taking over of Government House as a convalescent home for returned men.

Group Captain C. A. Davidson and Wing Commander D. R. Easton of the Royal Canadian Air Force, Calgary, have looked this property over and they are quite satisfied that the building and grounds are well adapted for this purpose.

Use of the Government House property as a convalescent home for returned men was suggested by Edmonton branch of the Canadian Legion.

The province offered the property to the Dominion department of pensions and national health for this purpose, some months ago. The suggestion to the department of national defence, and it is with this Dominion department that the province is negotiating.

Noted Screen Star Might Visit City

LETHBRIDGE, Feb. 21.—Soon to make a tour of United States and Canadian service units in No. 4 R.C.A.F. Training Command, Kay Francis, noted film actress and five other Hollywood stars and starlets arrived at No. 8 Bombing and Gunnery School, Lethbridge, Saturday noon and took off for Winnipeg at night.

Miss Francis and her party will probably visit Edmonton on her present tour and the party may put on a show in the arena. Date of the visit to Edmonton has not yet been set.

The party, headed by Miss Francis, included: Reginald Gardener, Marsha Hunt, Patty Thomas, Teddi Sherman and Nancy Barnes.

Following dinner in the mess the party took off in planes supplied by Brig. General Dale V. Gaffney, Commanding General of the Alaskan Wing, Air Transport Command of the U. S. Army at Edmonton.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(CP)—The Vichy radio reported today, without confirmation, that an American transport had been sunk between Taranito and Brindisi, Italy, by the explosion of a bomb hidden in the hull.

$150,000 Fire Loss

HUNTSVILLE, Ont., Feb. 21.—(CP)—A volunteer fireman was injured and an estimated $150,000 damage caused yesterday when fire destroyed the grocery department of the Huntsville Trading Company and a hardware store. The buildings are in the heart of Huntsville's business district. Huntsville is about 120 miles north of Toronto.

Hundreds Surrender To Allies

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(CP)—The Berlin radio reported today that tank-led Allied infantry, going over to the offensive in the Anzio beachhead south of Rome, had made "temporary" breaches in the Nazi defences and had inflicted "considerable casualties" on German troops in intensified fighting.

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin Copyright, 1944, by British United Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, Feb. 21.—The second battle of the Anzio beachhead appeared to have ended in bloody defeat for the German 14th Army today as British and American armored forces recaptured almost half of a 4,000-yard salient won by the Nazis at tremendous cost in their three-day offensive south of Aprilia.

Stunned and shaken by the ferocity of the Allied counter-blow and the frightful land, sea and air bombardment hurled against them, the Germans were surrendering by the hundreds to the advancing British and American troops.

Scores of other Germans were shot down by their own gunners when they turned to flee.

(A German high command communique said an Allied battle group had been encircled south of Aprilia, but made no further claims)

Millet Airman In Stuttgart Raid

By ALAN RANDAL
LONDON, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Canadian bomber group squadrons taking part in last night's R.A.F. R.C.A.F. smash at Stuttgart, Germany, included the Goose, Thunderbird, Alouette, Snowy Owl, Lion, Porcupine and Tiger. It was disclosed today.

Airmen of the Lion squadron later described the results as "the finest in months." One Canadian plane is missing, part of the night's total loss of 10 aircraft.

Sgt. R. F. Thibodeau of Sauls Ste. Marie, Ont., and Sgt. D. L. Sehnlin of Millet, Alta., were gunners in a Lancaster attacked by two enemy fighters over the target. Thibodeau got his guns into action and the Nazis broke off.

Give Condition Of Mrs. Gandhi As Very Grave

BOMBAY, Feb. 21.—(CP)—The government of Bombay issued a communique yesterday, saying the condition of Mrs. Mohandas K. Gandhi, wife of the Nationalist leader, has been "deteriorating for some days" and now is very grave following a number of heart attacks recently. Mrs. Gandhi suffered a number of heart attacks at Poona, where she has been under detention with her husband since last August.

London Again Is Heavily Hit In Nazi Attack

By WALTER CRONKITE
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
Copyright, 1944, by British United Press
LONDON, Feb. 21.—This British capital underwent probably its heaviest fire raid since the "blitz" of 1940-41 during the night when Nazi planes came over in two waves and scattered incendiaries on the city.
Four German planes were destroyed during last night's attack. The fire raid on London came in two waves, both short but sharp—the largest before midnight and the second in the early morning hours. Recruiters still were digging for trapped victims at dawn.
Nearly 50 individual areas were hit by German explosives and incendiaries and the glow of the fires lit the sky in all directions from central London before they were controlled. From one vantage point it was possible to count 10 separate fires.

REPORT FATALITIES

Reports of fatalities came in ones, twos, three and fours and the casualties from blitzed schools and residential and shopping districts appeared more numerous than at any time since the big raids of 1940-41.
Incendiaries set fire to the roof of a convent in one section and nuns fought through the flames in an attempt to save one sister who was trapped and to salvage their possessions.
But there was no comparison between the raid on London and the week-end Allied smashes at Germany.
The Berlin radio described the raid as a "massive assault."

Flaming Vessel Safely Docked

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The British merchantman Delius docked recently after a five-day, 1,000-mile battle with a blazing cargo of cotton and peanuts set afire by enemy glider-bombers.
Second Mate Gordon Marshall, 29, assumed command after the captain was killed by a glider bomb that exploded on the bridge. He went practically sleepless for five days as the crew manned hoses and fire-fighting equipment on the deck and in the engine rooms.
The Delius was burning when she came into port, and blazed for 10 days. The 8,000-ton vessel was homeward bound from India when attacked by the German bombers 250 miles off Cabo de Sao Vicente, Portugal.

Finnish Diplomat Plans to Report On Peace Terms

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Juhani Paasikivi, the Finnish diplomat, plans to return to Helsinki Monday or Tuesday to report on his efforts to obtain terms for cessation of hostilities between Finland and the Soviet Union, the Swedish newspaper Dagens Nyheter reported yesterday.
Paasikivi ostensibly came to Stockholm recently for a vacation but his continued presence here has been interpreted as meaning that preliminary negotiations looking toward a Finnish-Russian armistice may have been taken.

"Unofficial Diplomacy"

Charge Germany is Seeking Separate Peace Agreements In Order to Split Allies

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

MOSCOW, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The Soviet trade union journal, "War and the Working Class," said Saturday that Germany, employing "unofficial diplomacy and under-handed methods," is trying to make separate peace agreements to split the Allies. The Soviet magazine predicted failure of all such German efforts.

"Yank" Writer Has Close Call In Attu Scrap

N.C.O.'s and privates, who form the editorial staff of the Yank on battle fronts in all parts of the world.

WITH U.S. PAPERS

When the U.S. entered the war he was on the staff of the Fairbanks Daily News Miner. Prior to that he worked on the Stockton Daily Record at Stockton, Calif.

After entering the army he was stationed for a time at the cold weather test station at Ladd Field, then under the command of Col. Dale V. Gaffney, now Brig-Gen Gaffney, commanding general of the Alaskan Wing of the U.S. Army Air Force Transport Command.

He was selected as Alaskan theatre correspondent for the Yank, five months after he entered the army. After six weeks of training in the publishing office of the paper in New York City, Sgt. Meyers returned to the northwest.

In the capacity of combat reporter he has participated in four amphibious landings in the Aleutian area, those at Adak, Amchitka, Attu and Kiska.

He also participated in four bombing missions against Kiska and Attu islands with heavy and medium bombing forces.

"The whole purpose of the Yank is to be the enlisted man's mouthpiece in the field," Sgt. Meyers explained.

REPORT ON MEN

"We report only on the doings of the men in the ranks," he continued.

"For instance, where a civilian press correspondent might write an article about captain so and so bombing an enemy ship, we would tell about sergeant so and so scoring a direct hit on the ship with his bomb and sergeant so and so, navigating his plane through a bad stretch of weather, mentioning finally that captain so and so was the pilot."

The Yank correspondents submit to the same censorship as civilian press correspondents.

"By living side by side with the enlisted men in the fox holes under fire, we get a pretty accurate picture of what the enlisted man thinks about while in action," he said.

Sgt. Meyers saw much of the Canadians during the occupation of Kiska and Attu. He holds the Canadian troops in high regard.

"I think the Canadians had the most orderly camp on Kiska a few hours after the landing. They are very neat and efficient."

INTERVIEWED PEARKES

His contact with the Canadians included an interview with Maj-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., D.S.O., general officer commanding in chief Canadian forces in the Pacific.

"After the terrible struggle for Attu I must admit I was not among those who were disappointed because the Japs had left Kiska before our arrival," Meyers said. Of the Attu battle that raged from May 11 to May 31, Sgt. Meyers said:

"The Japs put up a terrific defence. Superior gun power and numbers finally told in favor of the Americans but it was a grim fight."

"The landing itself was made in a fog and we suffered no casualties getting ashore but the fight was on soon after the landing."

It was close to the end of the campaign that Meyers went through his greatest spine chiller.

JAPS BOTTLED UP

"The remaining Japs were bottled up in the Chicago Harbor area and the troops I was with were camped in an area that was supposed to be right outside the war zone at the moment. We were camped in Saran Valley, and most of the troops were in tents," he said.

"A public relations officer and myself were in our sleeping bags in fox holes. That saved our lives. I was awakened at about 4.30 a.m. by the wildest screaming. The Japs had made a sneak Indian-style attack past our sentries and were shooting up and bayonetting the camp. They poured machine-gun fire on the tents and plunged bayonets into them."

Doolittle Predicts Great Air Assaults on Tokyo

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Maj-Gen. James H. Doolittle, who led the American raid on Tokyo in 1942, yesterday predicted greater Allied assaults on the Japanese capital "in the shortest possible time," but indicated agreement in the Allied high command that "Hitler must be finished first."

At the same time he disclosed the 8th United States Air Force, which he is assigned to command in the Western European invasion, flew more than 19,000 sorties and dropped 15,000 tons of bombs on enemy targets in the last 30 days.

"We are going back to Tokyo—and we shall go in full array and with mighty Allies," said the man who led a formation of medium bombers from the Carrier Hornet on the flight of April 18, 1942 to bomb Tokyo, Yokohama, Osaka, Kobe and Nagoya.

BRITAIN TO HELP

"British civil and military leaders have assured me how fully they share our determination to carry the war to the very heart of Japan in the shortest possible time," he declared in a speech broadcast to the United States marking the addition of a new carrier to the United States army.

The old U.S. carrier Hornet was sunk by American guns when she was damaged beyond salvage in the battle of Santa Cruz islands in October, 1942. The new carrier is christened "Shangri La," the term used by President Roosevelt in concealing the takeoff point of Doolittle's Tokyo raiders.

Invasion Plans Reported Going Steadily Ahead

By ROSS MUNRO

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Allied plans for invasion of Western Europe appear to be moving ahead at an even pace and there is no suggestion here at this stage that the second-front attack may not take place.

While leaders are taking a realistic approach to the problem of attacking the strong German positions in Western Europe, there are no hints of pessimism although everyone associated with the planned assault knows it will not be easy.

There was nobody in high brackets of the military command here who would agree with Quentin Reynolds' pessimistic statement at Toronto.

(Reynolds was quoted as telling Toronto newspapermen that a European invasion across the channel was so difficult a task it might never happen.) They point to preparations which have been made, forces which have been gathered and detailed plans drawn up. They say all this has not been done just to make the Germans jittery.

Even though the invasion may be costly, the supreme command is going to carry it out for high point has decided it must be the next step to finish off the war. There has been no dissenting voice raised in Britain.

C.C.F. Candidate

MEDICINE HAT, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Earl Smith, Canadian Pacific Railway trainman, was nominated C.C.F. candidate to contest Medicine Hat constituency at the next Federal election by a nominating convention Saturday. A former member of the Communist Party, he has been actively associated with the C.C.F. here since its organization.

Churchill Will Discuss Many Vital Problems

By ROSS MUNRO

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Prime Minister Churchill will make one of his most important war speeches at the next sitting of the House of Commons. The speech, his first review in the House of Commons since September, will initiate a two-day debate on the war and international affairs.

Members expect he will give details of the beachhead fighting in Italy and the latest news of the attack on Cassino. They expect some references to the forthcoming western invasion and the war in the Far East.

BOMBING POLICY

Mr. Churchill may touch also on bombing policy and give strong endorsement to the present bombing campaign which has been protested by two clergymen members of the House of Lords, the bishop of Winchester and Lord Lang, former archbishop of Canterbury, in a debate in that house.

Finland's reported bid for peace with Russia possibly will come within the prime minister's review and his interest in the Russo-Polish border dispute may be reflected in the speech. Also, negotiations reported to be under way in Madrid between Britain and the United States and Spain may be discussed.

There is a belief in some quarters that the Prime Minister may call for a vote of confidence in view of the defeat of the government candidate, the Marquess of Hartington, by Alderman Charles White, Independent Socialist, in last week's West Derbyshire by-election. There is no doubt, however, that he will receive overwhelming support as usual.

Gestapo Grillings, Fear of Sabotage, Raids All Part of Berlin to Spain Train Trip

By CHARLES S. FOLTZ

MADRID, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Eight days ago a German who must be called Hans Schmidt, because Hans says it's healthier that way, left Berlin for Spain by train. Here is the story of his trip in his own words:

"What Berlin looks like now, the world knows. There are more ruins than inhabited houses, more government buildings evacuated than still functioning."

"It is not hard for the German authorities to realize that the stomach of a German has lots to do with morale. Berliners, even through the bombings, have been getting the food their ration cards call for, and have been getting it regularly. It is not much, naturally, but the rations have not been much for a long time and Berliners are accustomed to that. The important thing is that what is due them, they get."

MORE RUIN THAN STATION

"When I went to the station—which, by the way, is more ruin than station—I found a weekly batch of 300 women, 50 babies and 250 children sent to Koenigsberg in East Prussia, with hundreds of other Berliners being evacuated on the usual daily special trains."

"No sooner had I found my seat, reserved for weeks in advance, than the Gestapo men came for examination of my papers and travel passes. Their work was made a lot more difficult by the Allies, who drop blank travel passes along with bombs, but this examination was so thorough that I thought it most likely would be the worst."

"I was wrong. From Berlin to the Spanish frontier Gestapo agents examined papers and cross-questioned me and all my fellow-travellers exactly 51 times. I spent hours waiting to be examined. "Dessau was a wreck too. The Siemens-Halske and Siemens-Schuckert plants seemed 75 per cent destroyed. The Leuno chemical works at Halle were smashed to rubble. In Kassel the only two buildings I saw standing were reinforced concrete anti-aircraft towers."

"Once we entered France there was a new worry—sabotage. But we arrived safely in Paris and left immediately on the trip toward Bordeaux. The constant examinations and cross-questionings increased."

"A man and a woman entered our compartments and questioned us in a friendly, confidential way like fellow-travellers, but after they left at one of the way stations the Gestapo called out one German whose answers to the couple had been a little frank. We never saw him again."

ALLIED PLANE ATTACKS

"Before we reached Bordeaux what everybody feared came. The anti-aircraft batteries on the flat car of the train opened fire. Every-

Say Stalin Plans No New Conquests In European Zone

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(CP)—The Sunday Observer said yesterday that Premier Stalin told a "leading member" of the diplomatic corps in Moscow that Russia has "no intention whatsoever of expanding into central or western Europe." The paper quoted Stalin as saying: "those who think I would ever embark on the adventurous path of conquest blatantly underestimate my sense of realities. People who make analogies between Hitler and myself simply show they know nothing about politics."

New Markets FROM RESEARCH

NEW USES FOR NICKEL MEANT NEW JOBS IN CANADA

AT THE CLOSE of the last war, Nickel was no longer needed to build battleships and artillery. The demand for Canadian Nickel fell off sharply. Soon the Canadian Nickel mines had to close down.

But the men who managed these properties could foresee possible new markets for Canadian Nickel in the growing automobile, electric, radio, chemical and other industries. They organized a Research and Development department to work with engineers in these industries, and to promote the use of Nickel and its alloys wherever better materials were required.

Shortly, operations were resumed. In 1924, the Nickel industry opened a new mine. In 1926 it began enlarging its smelting and refining plants. Within a decade it was paying out 15 millions of dollars a year in Canada for wages.

Although the entire output of Canadian Nickel is today diverted to war uses, this industry has definite plans for the post-war period.

Then it will turn again to its peacetime markets, and will proceed to develop new markets based on research now in progress. Through its own enterprise, the Canadian Nickel industry plans still greater contributions to Canada's prosperity.

The Code Is Needed

A squabble between members of two street railway unions resulted in Montreal tramways being tied up, despite the efforts of the union officials to keep the cars moving. This is a timely illustration of the need in Canada of a Labor Code which will be observed, and where necessary enforced. That the entire population of a great city can be suddenly left without means to get to and from work because of a petty dispute between two groups of motormen is a condition not to be tolerated.

In the Montreal instance the injustice is aggravated because thousands of workers in war plants were thus hindered or prevented from carrying on. The news from Italy supplies the appropriate comment on that phase of the affair. The men over there are not laying down their tools. Civilians whose work in any way affects their safety and success should not interrupt, nor be compelled to interrupt, the full flow of supplies to our fighting men.

It may be that the Montreal trammen would have tied up the cars even if the new Labor Code had been in force. But they probably would not have done so; and if they had done so overwhelming public opinion would back whatever enforcement measures might be necessary.

For Propaganda Purposes

Berlin's boast that "several hundred" Nazi bombers attacked London Friday night ran true to form. Estimates are that 50 or 60 raiders crossed the English coast, of which only a fraction penetrated the ack-ack barrage and got over the city. The damage done was greater than in any attack since May, 1941, but did not compare with the devastation then caused.

Saturday night's raid was apparently less damaging, with no more planes taking part.

In the number of planes employed and the results attained the raids expose the relative weakness to which the Luftwaffe has been reduced. If this is the largest and most destructive force Goering now feels that he can employ for a spectacular blow at London, his reserves of machines or men or fuel must be running low. That the attacks were aimed to accomplish any large military purpose is obviously not the case. The real object, or the main one, may be supposed to be to give Goebbels something to invite his radio listeners to cheer for. They have been hearing a lot of bad news for a year past, despite the censors, and no doubt inklings have seeped through about the disaster at Cherkassy. Perhaps Dr. Goebbels can make them think that London has been laid in ruins, like Berlin. No doubt he will try.

The Serviceman's Voice

Flight Lt. James Sinclair, member for Vancouver North, has been telling the Canadian House of Commons about the kind of treatment servicemen desire when their fighting job is done and they come back to civil life.

What they want, says Flight Lt. Sinclair, is jobs, jobs of peace and construction. They do not want to be treated as boys on boys' wages, but as men who are entitled to men's pay and men's opportunities.

This is the view of the servicemen themselves. And it will be very unfortunate and even dangerous if Canada misconceives the nature of that view. For it is not something that the rest of the country can endorse or reject. It is not a plea that can be granted or refused. It is nothing like that at all.

For the voice of the serviceman is the voice of Canada. It is that part of Canada's democracy which has earned, in blood and tears and sweat, the right to speak for Canada. It is that section of our democracy which has bought with its life the power to say what shall be done.

That fact is something that is frequently overlooked. We have got into the habit of thinking of the serviceman either as a favorite son whom we delight to indulge or as a hired man whom we are pleased to patronize.

The serviceman is Canada. His view is neither an argument nor an appeal. It is a mandate.

4,000,000 "Backlogs"

Figures have been given out which show how widely war bonds have been bought by the people of Canada. The following list shows how many persons bought bonds of each of the issues, and the total amounts subscribed by them in each case. Subscriptions made by those in "special names" lists, and purchases by corporations, are not included.

1st War loan, Jan. 1940	Amount applied (in millions)
2nd War loan, Sept. 1940	113
1st Victory loan, June 1941	280
2nd Victory loan, Feb. 1942	336
3rd Victory loan, Oct. 1942	375
4th Victory loan, April 1943	530
5th Victory loan, Oct. 1943	604

This showing is that Canadians in moderate circumstances have in four years invested a total of $2,370,000,000 in war bonds. As stated, this table does not include subscriptions made by well to do persons in the "special names" category, nor those made by corporations—in which thousands of people of moderate means are stock-holders and therefore also indirect subscribers.

How many individuals have bought bonds, first to last, is not stated. There were repeaters of course, but it is fair to assume that the total number of these individual buyers of medium income is at least 4,000,000, and may be 5,000,000. There are more holders of war bonds than there are families in Canada.

Against gloomy forebodings of troubles to come in the post-war years is to be placed this heartening fact that upwards of half the middle-income people in Canada hold war bonds, totalling $2,370,000,000; besides many millions of dollars' worth of war savings certificates. These "backlogs" of future purchasing power are for the holders insurance policies against distress, and assets which can be turned into cash to build homes or start business enterprises. For the country they provide an equal safeguard against a slump into depressed conditions.

General MacArthur says bombing and blockade alone cannot defeat the Japs. He is qualified to judge, but it may be doubted that Tojo agrees with him. We will know the answer to the question when the home islands are subjected to the systematic bombing that has reduced every Japanese base in the southern islands to which it has been applied to the saturation point.

While an American task force pounded Truk, with a diversionary raid on Ponape, other Allied planes caught a Jap convoy off New Ireland and sank fifteen ships, still others blasted Kavieng, another bomber force hammered enemy installations on one of the Dutch East Indies islands and a second task force opened an all-out attack on the most westerly Atoll in the Marshalls. Whoever at Tokyo has to keep track of the places the Japs are being hit is a busy man.

In one respect the Doukhobor outbreak in British Columbia is timely. It occurred just when Canadians were being told by some outsiders and also some home-grown politicians that when the war ends we should open the gates and let in a veritable "flood" of immigrants from Europe. The antics of the Sons of Freedom are reminders that there is such a thing as quality as well as quantity when it comes to letting outsiders fill up the country. Canadians do not owe it to Europe to make the Dominion a dumping ground where the older continent can ship people it wants to get rid of.

The Saturday Night Review

Summary of Broadcast Delivered over CFRN Feb. 19

By HAROLD L. WEIR

The chill atmosphere in which the recent Toronto speech of Lord Halifax was received in Canada is growing even chillier. The Halifax proposals, which boiled down to a suggestion for making the British Empire something more than a subject for oratory, are at present coldly regarded.

There seems to be a prevalent fear in this country that any closer political co-operation with Great Britain will result, in some mysterious and inexplicable way, in a loss of Canadian sovereignty.

This tendency in Canadian thinking arises from two sources. It is derived from the propaganda of Quebec nationalists who are working diligently to effect a complete severance of the relations between Canada and Britain. It is derived also from the muddled conceptions of those who have jumped to conclusions that the Halifax speech certainly did not justify.

It is quite unnecessary to discuss the attitude of the Quebec nationalists. One either believes in a British federation of nations or one does not. There seems to be no room for argument either way.

Logical

On the other hand, although I do not propose to say it here, there is much to be said about the strange attitude of those who have so vehemently rejected the entirely sound and logical suggestions of Lord Halifax that the units of the Empire, on certain basic questions, present a unanimous front to the world.

It seems to me to be weird and incredible that those who are loudest in demanding a world association of nations should be equally loud in voicing their suspicions of an even less close and less binding relationship with Britain.

I can't for the life of me see how we are going to co-operate with half the countries of Europe in the vexing task of building a better world if we are going to shy off, with absurd and childish fears about our sovereignty, from normal co-operation with our own Mother Country.

I can't begin to understand how we can hope to make a world association of nations when we refuse to take steps to first make the British Empire work. For if the British Empire, based on the most co-operative and benevolent relationship among nations ever seen in the world's history, cannot be made mechanically effective, we might just as well scrap our other grandiose notions about world harmony.

Sovereignty

We worry as much and as ridiculously about our national sovereignty as the infant worries about his right to exercise his newly-found ability to feed himself.

It is absolutely certain that sovereignty will have to be redefined if we are going to have a world association of nations after the war. A nation or an individual naturally gives some of its or his sovereignty away when it or he co-operates with other nations or individuals. The common flow of love between one person and another implies a surrender, to some slight extent, of personal sovereignty. Wherever there is usefulness, helpfulness, co-operation or self-sacrifice, there is essentially a certain surrender of sovereignty.

But that does not imply a surrender of personal or national free will. We can have complete national usefulness without relinquishing to the slightest degree our capacity for determining our own Canadian future.

And unless we do have national and international usefulness, our hope for a better world is so much tragic nonsense.

We might very well begin to practice this precept by abandoning our puerile and foolish suspicion that any contact with self-determination is going to rob us of self-determination.

War Effort

One part of England's war effort has been interestingly described in special information from London which paints a picture of England as one huge airfield.

There are now more than 250 individual airfields in England, built at an average cost of from one million to two million pounds sterling each.

The average R.A.F. airfield covers an area of from two to two and a half square miles, surrounded by a five-mile perimeter track, 50 feet wide. Inside are three runways, one 2,000 yards and two 1,400 yards long, all 50 yards wide. The larger airfields have four runways each 3,000 yards long and 100 yards wide.

The total area of runways and perimeter tracks in British airfields is nearly 160 million square yards, equivalent to 9,000 miles of road, 80 feet wide. The total area of runways and perimeter tracks in British airfields is nearly 160 million square yards, equivalent to 9,000 miles of road, 80 feet wide.

In addition, airfield buildings, including 1,000,000 accommodation huts, required 18,000,000 cubic feet of wood, 1,000,000 tons of steel and cast iron and 336,000 miles of cable—all supplied by British factories, along with other equipment too numerous to be mentioned here. This colossal effort gives only part of the picture of total war.

National Unity

Major-General L. R. LaFleche, minister of national war services, spoke in Toronto this week in behalf of national unity. He declared that Canadians must reject any who disturb the good relationship between French speaking and English speaking Canadians.

With this appeal, every honest patriot will be in entire accord.

There are certain implications in General LaFleche's speech, however, that make it desirable to point out that the agencies which seek to disturb this good relationship have an unfortunate habit of arising in Quebec.

It is quite definitely the nationalist groups of that province which go to such unhappy lengths to point out fancied differences between Canadians of French stock and Canadians of non-French stock.

They are the ones who continue to place emphasis upon those differences of religion and racial origin which are said to divide Canada into two sections. They are the ones who are disturbing the good relationship of which General LaFleche speaks. General LaFleche himself, in overstressing this difference, does Canadian national unity no service.

No Distinction

In his social and business and cultural contacts, the average Canadian draws absolutely no mental distinction between Roman Catholic and Protestant. That distinction is drawn by certain groups in Quebec.

Nor, so far as the purely spiritual activities of the churches are concerned, is there need to draw such a social and economic distinction.

Catholics and Protestants live amicably and co-operatively together in England. The premier duke and earl of Britain is a Roman Catholic, Lord Semphill, recently in Edmonton in connection with his magnificent war services, is also an ardent Roman Catholic.

No such social or economic distinction, therefore, exists in England. It need not exist here, indeed it does not exist here, until it is created by certain Quebec factions.

In Canada, we interpret our principle of religious freedom not only as allowing liberty to the individual to be a Protestant, but also as liberty to the individual to be a Roman Catholic without requiring to give excuses or explanations to any man.

Racial

So far as the myth of racial difference is concerned, this is almost entirely a fiction nourished by Quebec nationalists.

The racial difference of French-Canadians and English-Canadians is so exceedingly slight as to be unworthy of notice.

Speaking broadly, the racial origin of both our peoples is a Norse or Northman layer superimposed over an almost entirely Celtic base.

Quebec is made up largely of a Norse and Celtic derived race which moved from Normandy and Brittany into Canada during the seventeenth century.

The British Isles are inhabited in a large proportion by an admixture of Celtic folk and by Northmen and Scandinavian peoples who came from the north and from Normandy during the ninth, tenth and eleventh centuries.

The so-called Saxon element in Britain is almost entirely mythical. The Danes and Norwegians were Northmen. The Normans were merely transplanted Northmen. And these, together, with a basic Celtic population, is the derivation of most English blood.

French-Canadians came from Brittany and Normandy. Brittany is almost entirely Celtic. Normandy is a mixture of Celtic and Northman.

Thus, the fundamental racial difference between French-Canadians and British-Canadians is exceedingly remote.

If French-Canadian protagonists would consider emphasizing this likeness instead of constantly emphasizing the non-existent difference, Canadian unity would be much more soundly assured.

Suicide

The press, this week, recorded the suicide of a 65-year-old man in Belfast. Now suicides, most unhappily, are not uncommon. Almost every edition of every newspaper tells of the self-destruction of some man or woman or even of some child.

But this suicide had unique features inasmuch as its motivation was directly traced to a radio talk by a so-called British scientist and philosopher.

This Belfast man took his own life immediately after hearing a radio talk by Professor C. M. Joad who said that it was a man's privilege to commit suicide if he found life unbearable.

Now it is not the purpose of this comment to point a finger of reproach at any person who leaves the world by the way of suicide. It is not the purpose of this comment to affix any blame to the act of suicide or to the relatives of any man who thus forsakes the earth.

But it is the purpose of this comment to declare that the encouragement of this act, by such pagan egotists as Professor Joad, is a most monstrous, criminal and depraved performance.

Rejection

A martyr is a man who cares so much for something outside him that he forgets his own personal life. A suicide is a man who cares so little for anything outside him, that he wants to see the last of everything. One wants something to begin. The other wants everything to end. The martyr is noble because he confesses an ultimate link with life. The suicide is ignoble because he is a mere destroyer. He destroys the universe.

Not only is suicide a sin; it is the sin. It is the consummation of egotism, the last act of the man who believes only in himself. It is the ultimate and absolute evil, the refusal to take an interest in existence, the refusal to take the oath of loyalty to life.

The man who kills himself, kills all men. So far as he is concerned, he wipes out the world. His act is worse, symbolically, than criminal assault or the dynamiting of a building. For it destroys all buildings. It insults all women.

The thief is satisfied with diamonds. The suicide is not. And that is his crime. He cannot be bribed, even by the blazing stones of the world. The thief compliments the thing he steals. But the suicide insults everything on earth by turning his back on it.

He defies every flower by refusing to live for its sake. There is not a tiny creature in the universe to which his death is not a smear.

When a man hangs himself on a tree, the leaves might fall off in anger and birds fly away in fury. For each has received a personal affront. For suicides there is nothing but pity. For men like Joad, who counsel suicide, there is nothing but disgust.

Famous Empress Dowager

Ruled for Fifty Years by Force of a Powerful Personality

By MARY ALICE QUAYNE

Interest in the glamorous and able Mme. Chiang Kai-shek reminds us of an indomitable woman of China, the famous Empress Dowager, known also as the Old Buddha. For over 50 years this woman ruled China, chiefly by the force of her own magnetic personality, augmented by intrigue, ruthlessness, ambition and a sort of off-with-their-heads efficiency.

Yet this Empress Dowager Yehonala (later known as Tzu-hsi) was a tiny, dainty, pretty woman who wasn't born to the purple. In fact, her place of birth isn't known. Her father was a captain in one of the Banner Corps but was either too honest or too futile to accumulate any wealth.

However, the family had the position of gentleness, and when they came to Peking they lived in Fower Lane in one of the many comfortable modest houses, behind high walls. In short, Yehonala was a well-brought-up little girl in an unpretentious household where she knew what it meant to scrimp in order to keep up the family face.

Chosen for Palace

When she was in her teens, being a daughter of a Manchurian Bannerman, she was one of the girls chosen to go to the palace as a member of the imperial harem. She was none too pleased at the idea then, being in love with her cousin. Once at the palace, however, it wasn't long before she became a power and she never lost her grip till she died at 72.

But all her power didn't give her privacy or solitude. So her intrigues had to be cleverly contrived, usually during walks and under the use of admiring the goldfish or the birds, while in reality plotting with her companion. For in the Forbidden City, there was always a eunuch or a waiting maid behind every silken partition ready to offer a fan or pick up a handkerchief and incidentally to hear and see. Even on walks these attendants were never out of sight.

Fond of Jewels
Yehonala wore magnificent clothes and collected splendid jewels, mostly pearls and jade. She often carried a huge pear-shaped pearl hollowed out as a snuffbox, with a little stopper of rub. She wore jeweled protectors over the enormously long fingernails on her third and fourth fingers.

Her complexion was wonderful all of her life. Some attribute this to the fact that she supervised the mixing of her soaps and creams. She did not have bound feet, being a Manchurian, but wore elaborately jeweled shoes with platform soles that raised her six inches off the ground—often this platform would be ornamented with a fringe of pearls that hung to the floor as swished as she walked.

One reason for these raised shoes was to protect the feet from the cold of the stone floors. For the palaces were only heated with braziers and there were few carpets. The bedrooms, being smaller, were bottles of queer fluids made out of strange berries, roots, herbs and old shoes and operated by fumbling among their old papers for forgotten recipes for home-made jump-steady and the old telephone numbers of mysterious booties who, in the days of long ago, would whomp up at the door, in response to a call, with Mason jars of Maryland corn, yet warm from the still.

And other among those present, mentioned by the society specialist, were Donald Nelson of the War Production Board, Admiral King and two learned justices of the supreme court, Stanley Reed and Robert Jackson, and their ladies.

Jim Crowism
In view of Mr. Field's own rather violent editorial policy on the subject of Jim Crowism and the mutual social exclusiveness of white and Negro elements of our population, which he disapproves with shrill vehemence in his New York publication, it might occur to some readers that surely some of those present were colored brethren. But Mr. Timmons isn't colored folks; nor any more is Jesse Jones nor Mr. Rayburn, nor the admiral nor anyone else listed by name. And other persons who did make merry with Mr. Field have said they didn't notice any colored guests at all. The only colored folks around Mr. Field's elaborate and stylish drinking Sunday night were the little girls who run the elevators and the help who make up the rooms and trundle out the bottles and the glasses.

Mr. Field is a clamorous advocate of that social and industrial arrangement known as the checkerboard plan which calls for a proportionate representation of the colored element in all things. He claimed, "that is scarcely sufficient. I shall do my best immediately to see that the royal astronomer is better rewarded."

"Your Majesty," Bradley replied, "I beg you not to do that."

"But why?" the Queen asked in perplexity.

"Because, your Majesty, if you should make the position of royal astronomer at Greenwich profitable, I am afraid no scientist will ever get the position."

The more we study the engineering details of German equipment, the clearer it is that this war was planned for many years, even before Hitler.—Ordnance Maj. Gen. G. M. Barnea.

SIDE GLANCES

nothing but pity. For men like Joad, who counsel suicide, there is nothing but disgust.

Marshall Field Throws a Party

Elaborate "Drinking" Makes Big Stir in American Capital

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

WASHINGTON, D.C. — "If the movies had portrayed it as Washington," wrote Evelyn Peyton Gordon, in the Washington Daily News on Monday, "the mass of people would have screamed 'How overdone!'"

Mrs. Gordon was covering a large party of the kind known in the social slang of the national capital as a "frigidarium," held last Sunday night in a "typical set as Hollywood might have staged it."

Wait. Don't go yet. This one has got a slow fuse.

"The biggest hotel in town," the society correspondent wrote, "the biggest ballroom, the most elaborate buffet, the most modernistic lighting, the most subtle music. Well, it was quite a party. A first I thought it was going to be a 'nation' named Bascom Timmons, who is from Texas, and the guests included among the 1,500, Speaker Sam Rayburn, Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones and Senator Tommy Connally.

Cost $10,000

"Then I took another look at the whip-end of the receiving line and I knew all the answers. There stood the handsome and much-discussed Mr. Marshall Field and his very pretty wife. Perhaps these two people were the most inconspicuous 'guests' at the reception. But, after all, it was Mr. Field's party. There was vast surmise as to how much the reception cost. Some said for a fact $10,000. Others were sure it was only $3,500."

Mr. Timmons is the distinguished Washington correspondent of Mr. Field's Chicago newspaper, the Sun, and the stated purpose of the drinking was to honor two other Field journalists, Mr. Charley Gridley, president of the Gridiron Club, and Mr. Sam O'Neal, president of the National Press.

"There was Scotch whisky for 1,500 guests and every other drink a dream could muster," Mrs. Gordon wrote for the information of a vast city whose inmates of late have been shuffling from store to store all over town in search of life-giving, nutritious drinks and coming home with odd-shaped is more than slightly bitter at the traditional ways of his fellow-Americans and, through his new journalism, has often been known to kick up that which is commonly in elegantly called a stink, at the expense of some startled individual, firm or institution caught in error by his Communist crusaders for compulsory peace and understanding.

Tito Rates First With Britain, U.S.

By WES GALLAGHER

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Yugoslavia's complicated political situation showed signs of clearing yesterday with the forces of Marshal Josip Broz (Tito), the Partisan leader, emerging as No. 1 in the political as well as military favor of Britain, the United States and Russia.

Former Prime Minister Gen. Dusan Simovic, who nearly three years ago led the revolt of King Peter's Yugoslav government against the Axis, used the British Broadcasting Corporation's facilities Saturday night to announce his support of Tito.

This showed a tendency of the British authorities to let King Peter's government, now installed in Cairo, fall back into obscurity. Russia openly supports Tito politically and militarily while both Britain and the United States for the last four months have been supplying arms to Tito.

New Russian Serum May Prolong Life

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—(AP)—A Russian-originated serum which may ultimately lengthen man's life span—possibly to 150 years—is described in the American review of Soviet medicine.

Dr. Vladimir V. Lebedenko, Russia's Red Cross representative in the United States, is suggesting the 150-year figure in public addresses.

There is nothing fantastic about the serum nor in the way the Russians hope it may work. The purpose is simply to aid in restoring to man his normal health and with it his normal life span, which many scientists suggest has been shortened since Methuselah.

NORMAL LONGEVITY
The serum's originator, Alexander A. Bogomolets, says in the Soviet medicine journal that he hopes the serum "will provide a means of fighting the precocious senile fading of the body, of fighting for its normal longevity." The longer life would come from both preventing and curing diseases peculiar to aging and to old age.

This serum is peculiar in that it is made for an entire system of the human body—that part of the body which governs man's natural defenses against disease.

Minute doses of the serum now are given to human beings in Russia, and the report summarizes the results of thousands of cases, particularly its good results in speeding the healing of wounds and of broken bones among Russian soldiers.

SURPRISING BENEFITS
The time has not been long enough to measure any effects on life span. But the variety of other reported benefits is surprising. Bogomolets says that if his idea

Calgary Reports Surplus of Labor

CALGARY, Feb. 21.—(CP)—The labor situation has changed from shortage to surplus and the National Selective Service office at Calgary, appealed to employers, Saturday, to place orders now for all the employees they can use and help reduce the list of unemployed.

"The surplus of labor seems to be local and temporary, but it offers an opportunity for employers to obtain some immediate help, or add to their staffs in preparation for the coming season," said Arthur Wood, National Selective Service manager.

In the past year or two, he pointed out, it had been difficult in many cases for employers to obtain all the help they needed with the result that many employers had adjusted themselves to the situation and were trying to get by with reduced staffs.

is right, the serum will be helpful in many human ills; that it will not be a cure-all, and will not supplant any present good medicines, but will be a general aid for getting well. Longer life span naturally follows.

Two diseases in which he says there should be favorable results, since both are due to quite an extent to ageing of the body, are cancer and high blood pressure.

Air Power

Heavy Air Losses Certain

By Maj. A. P. de Seversky

Fighting of exceptional fury marked the American offensive last week against aircraft plants in Brunswick, deep in the heart of Germany. The day's operations on February 10, of which the Brunswick action was the most important, cost us twenty-nine bombers and eight fighter planes, and destroyed eighty-four of the enemy's aircraft in more than two hours of unbroken battle. This all-out contest should end any lingering doubts as to the vigor and skill of Hitler's defensive aviation.

We should recognize fully that the relatively easy period of air raiding is over. Not raids, but true air battles are the order of the day. In accepting this challenge, our air forces know in advance that it implies heavy losses. General Carl Spaatz, we may be sure, recognizes the new situation, and in undertaking intensive assaults has figured the inevitable high costs in men and machines.

There will be those who ask: Why continue to fight in daylight when the losses involved are so terrific? Why not conduct operations under cover of night, as the Royal Air Force is doing for the most part? Now that we have developed instruments enabling us to bomb with comparative accuracy through clouds and overcast, why do we venture in the open skies in good weather?

The answer to such questions is that the Allies are waging a two-fold war in the air over Europe—not only against targets on the ground, but against targets in the air. We are interested not only in destroying factories, airbases and surface objectives, but in destroying enemy fighter planes. In fact, the war to eliminate Germany's defensive aviation is at the present stage more important and more urgent than the war to annihilate ground targets.

FORMIDABLE BARRIER
Before Germany can be finished off from the air, or sufficiently softened to make successful invasion possible, the Luftwaffe must be knocked out. It is the formidable barrier between the Allied air forces and enemy targets. Its removal is therefore the indispensable immediate objective of aerial strategy on our side. And it happens to be a crucial job which from the outset has been assigned to American rather than to British aviation.

The destruction of targets on the surface calls for maximum bombing power; the British have been geared for just that, with their heavy Lancasters and Stirlings, capable of dropping as much as eight tons of explosive in a single flight. But the destruction of targets in the air—that is to say, German fighter planes—requires that the stress be put on firepower. American bombers have done exactly that, sacrificing bomb load in favor of heavier armor and especially greater firepower.

PRIMARY PURPOSE
How and why this division of functions between British and Americans happened is a subject I shall deal with in another dispatch. The fact is that the American phase of the air effort has the elimination of enemy airplanes as a primary purpose. Obviously we cannot accomplish this by avoiding combat. On the contrary, we must deliberately draw the enemy into air battle.

When we are apprised of American attacks on airbases and other targets undefended by enemy planes, it is not necessarily a proof of enemy weakness. It is more likely an indication of Hitler's policy of conserving defensive aircraft for more important occasions.

That is why so many of our fighters converted into bombers meet no resistance; the amount of bombs such fighter-bombers carry is usually too meagre to encourage the Germans in risking their defensive airplanes. Flying Fortresses and Liberators bring the Luftwaffe into action because they carry enough "provocative" bomb loads to constitute a real threat to targets down below. In the attack on Brunswick, for instance, the fate of important German aircraft works was at stake, so that the enemy was obliged to risk and lose eighty-four of his aircraft.

WITH the first of the city junior title series between Canadians and Navy scheduled for 119 Street rink tonight, hockey fans are reminded that the interprovincial playdowns are not so very far away either. The long trails that lead to Allan and Memorial cups will be holding greater interest from now on.

British Columbia-Alberta series for both seniors and juniors will commence on March 11, the former at Calgary with the junior venue still to be decided. It does look though as if the Alberta winners will have to go to Trail the same as last year—at least for a starter.

Edmonton Vics, obviously quite serious over their bid for a place in the hockey sun and determined to make full use of the time still at their disposal, will be taking on the New Westminster Lodestars and they will be no part of a pushover when March 11 rolls around. And it can be jotted down right now that the Paul Runge-Leroy Goldworthy-Louis Holmes lines will be in there for a sizeable quota of goals during the series too.

Last season the playoff for the Alberta title between Canadians and Royals was on March 3 and 4, the Edmonton juniors taking the Calgary 10-1 and 6-2. Trail was beaten 5-2 on March 6 and 4-3 two days later.

WHY THE DIFFERENCE?

NORTH Saskatchewan junior playdowns have already commenced, the University of Saskatchewan upsetting the Saskatoon Lions 7-3 on Saturday night. And by the same token it does seem rather odd that there should be such a divergence of opinion between Canadian universities insofar as participation in athletics is concerned.

It is only a few days since the University of Saskatchewan Huskies paid a visit to Edmonton for an intercollegiate basketball playoff. As a matter of fact, they even brought along and placed on the line, the Rugby Memorial trophy, of which they were the holders as a result of the last home and series two years ago.

Apparently the ban on travel in effect under the regulations of the University of Alberta War Services Board prevented the Golden Bears making the courtesy return trip. The same situation arose in the provincial football final last fall, the Calgary Blazards being compelled to play a sudden death game here with the U. of A. juniors instead of having the customary home-and-home total point series. Saskatchewan junior Huskies have been playing more or less regularly all winter and their senior grid squad even had a session with Regina Rough Riders last fall after failing to make the grade with Alberta. How come?

Sailors Tied With Red Deer

Three Third Period Goals Give Navy Win Over Currie

CALGARY, Feb. 21.—(CP)—A fighting Navy sextet scored goal for goal with Currie Army for two periods and then went out in the third and counted three straight markers, two of them coming in the last minute of play, to emerge with a well deserved 9-6 triumph in a Central Alberta Garrison Hockey League game played here Saturday night.

The victory moved the Navy into a second place tie with Red Deer Army and with only two scheduled games remaining, left the possibility of a three-cornered stalemate for top position. Over 3,000 fans were on hand for the exciting contest.

OS. Davy Sweeney Schirner, returning to his old-time form, paced the Sailors' attack with three goals and an assist, followed by OS. Doug Cairns, who notched two and an assist, to regain his individual scoring lead. Other Navy markers went to OS. Eddie Wares, AB. McDougall, LD-Wtr. Joe Shannon and LD-Wtr. Roy Sawyer.

Cpl. Alex Kaleta led the Currie attack with two goals while Pte. Max Bentley, Pte. Reg Bentley, Cpl. Dunc Grant and Cpl. Kenny Stewart, notched the remainder.

Lions Lose 7 to 3 In Series Opener

SASKATOON, Feb. 21.—(CP)—University of Saskatchewan Huskies took a four-goal lead over Saskatoon Lions in the first of a two-game total-series in Northern Junior Hockey play-offs, defeating the Lions by a 7-3 score. No date has been set for the second game, but the series must be completed by Feb. 28.

Jacobson, with three, and Sproule and Wallington, each with two, were the scorers for Huskies. Stoney netted twice and Locke once for Lions.

Goldworthy Nets Seven Counters in Vegreville Game

Approximately 1,000 fans turned out in Vegreville on Saturday night to see the exhibition game between the "Reds" and "Greens," teams made up of Edmonton Vics, Varsity and city juniors. The Reds won 11-10, Paul Runge scoring the deciding counter with less than a minute to go.

Leroy Goldworthy netted seven of the winners' goals, while Runge collected two and assisted in five others. Louis Holmes, playing the left boards on the line with Runge at centre and Goldworthy on right wing gathered in four assists. Jack Molynieux and Art Soley secured the other two markers for the Reds.

Jimmy Graham was top scorer for the Greens with four goals, going to AB Superstein and one each to Jimmy Anderson, Allen Paul Drouin and Bill Ingram. Bruce MacKay had three assists.

Led by the Runge-Goldworthy-Holmes line, the Reds gave Earl Robertson a very busy evening in the nets for the Greens.

The game was arranged in Vegreville through the co-operation of Jack Moss, president of the A.H.A.

Wings Down Bruins Fourth Time in Row

DETROIT, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Detroit Red Wings clamped a firmer grip on the National Hockey League's second place by defeating Boston Bruins 6-5 in a wide open game last night before 12,647 spectators. It was Detroit's fourth straight victory over Boston.

Herb Cain, the league's top goal producer, bagged his 31st in the first period and Buzz Boll followed with a shot set up by Cain. Detroit's four second-period goals came in less than 10 minutes. Joe Carveth and Adam Brown beat goalie Bert Gardiner and then Mud Bruneteau whipped home a pair to put the Wings ahead.

Egan, whom Detroit traded to Boston, then put the Bruins back in the running early in the third period. Don Grosso and Carl Liscombe then scored for Detroit, however, and goals in the last six minutes by Art Jackson and Bep

Leafs, Hawks Go Scoreless Before 18,534

Chicago Now Deadlocked With Bruins

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—(CP)—A record National League hockey crowd for the season—18,534—saw the third place Toronto Maple Leafs and Chicago Black Hawks battle to a scoreless tie last night at Chicago stadium.

The impasse moved the Hawks into a fourth place deadlock with the Boston Bruins, who dropped a 5-4 decision to the Detroit Red Wings. Each club now has 36 points, but the Bruins have lost one more game than the Chicagoans.

The closest thing to a score came at 9:16 of the second period when Hawk Fido slammed one through the net only to have the play nullified when Referee Bill Chadwick ruled the shot was illegal. Purpur had met the puck in the air with his stick above his shoulders, manoeuvre outlawed in the rule book.

POILE HAS BIG NIGHT ON RETURN TO N.H.L.

TORONTO, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Norman (Bud) Poile, making his first major league star in almost a year, drove home four goals Saturday as Toronto Maple Leafs overwhelmed Boston Bruins 10-1 in a National Hockey League contest before 11,637 fans.

The 20-year-old Fort William, Ont., centre, granted permission to play with Leafs while awaiting remission from the R.C.A.F. to the army, combined with youthful Jack Hamilton to steal individual honours as Leafs prevailed easily over Bruins after gaining a four-goal edge in the first period. Hamilton scored three, one on a penalty shot awarded when the officials ruled Dit Clapper had tripped him on a breakaway.

Lorne Carr, Bob Davidson and Elwin Morris scored Toronto's other goals. Armand (Bep) Guidolin, Boston's best performer, scored twice with singles going to Buzz Boll and Art Jackson.

LINEUPS

Montreal Gains 28th Victory

Canadiens Beat Rangers Twice To Increase First Place Lead

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—(CP)—The league-leading Montreal Canadiens had too much endurance and too much defensive strength for New York Rangers last night and handed the last-place club a 7-2 beating in one of the best games of the National Hockey League season here. It was Canadiens' second victory over Rangers in as many nights.

A crowd of 15,288 saw Rangers, beaten 5-2 at Montreal Saturday, take their ninth defeat in their last 10 games. For the Montrealers who haven't lost in seven clashes with Rangers this season, it was the 28th victory in 39 games.

Ex-Ranger Phil Watson paced the Canadiens with two goals and an assist.

The home club never stopped trying but could make little headway against the strong Montreal defence in the later stages.

"Babe" Pratt Shatters Mark

TORONTO, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Walter (Babe) Pratt shattered a National Hockey League record for points scored by defencemen in a single season when he counted four assists Saturday as Toronto Maple Leafs smothered Boston Bruins 10-1.

The Toronto record guard now has 13 goals and 33 assists, two better than the previous high-water mark of 44 points established last year by William (Flash) Hollett of Detroit Red Wings. Hollett, then with Bruins, had 19 goals and 25 assists in the season of 1942-43.

Canadians Lose In Soccer Match

ALDERSHOT, England, Feb. 21.—(CP Cable)—The Canadian Army team was defeated 6-3 Saturday in the first round of the inter-Allied Services soccer cup by the National Fire Services.

Canada's goals were scored by C.S.M. T. Turley, formerly of Montreal Carsteels, who netted twice, and Pte. J. R. Whent of Vancouver St. Saviors and Boelings.

Annual Bonspiel Of Service Clubs In Semi-Finals

The semi-finals were reached on Sunday afternoon in the annual Service Club bonspiel which is being played at the Royal Curling Club. The finals will be played next Sunday.

Senior Chamber of Commerce, Gyro Club, Rotary Club and Kiwanis Club are out in the fourth of the primary event, while the semi-finalists in the secondary are North West Commercial Travellers, Chinese Benevolent Association, Lions Club and Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Last year's champions, the Rotarians, after securing a 10-point lead in the first ends of the qualifying round, barely edged out the all-Chinese rink skipped by Mah Bow of Ponoka, the final score being 12-11. The Rotary Club then went into the semi-final by defeating Army 12-9.

Ben Chow of Daysland and Bill Sue and Dick Mah are the other members of Mah Bow's rink.

Following are the results:

FIRST ROUND
Sr. Chamber Commerce 17, Kinsmen 8; R.C.A.F. 10, N.W. Comm. Trav. 9; Gyro 13, Lions 7; Assoc. Comm. Trav. 10, Navy 7; Rotary 12, Chinese Benev. Assoc. 11; Army 14, Optimists 11; Un. Comm. Trav. 11, Cosmopolitans 8; Kiwanis 10, Jr. Chamber Commerce 6.

SECOND ROUND
Sr. Chamber Commerce 13, R.C.A.F. 3; Gyro 14, Assoc. Comm. Trav. 9; Rotary 12, Army 9; Kiwanis 12, United Comm. Trav. 9.

SEMI-FINALS
N.W. Comm. Trav. 13, Kinsmen 9; Chinese Benev. Assoc. 12, Optimists 9; Lions 11, Navy 7; Jr. Chamber Commerce 14, Cosmopolitans 8.

Wheeler's Trim Service Squad

The Wheelers piled up a 12-3 score against the Edmonton all-star service team in Saturday's exhibition game in Red Deer.

Red Deer soldiers led 2-0 at the end of the first period and fired in four additional goals in the middle frame while continuing to blank the visitors.

Wheeler then added another pair of counters in the final session before Martinson secured the initial goal for the Edmonton squad. The Red Deer boys ran in four more before the close of stanza, with Walsh and Steer netting for the service sextet.

Blanche Tiviotdale Wins Three

Westmount Cops Top Honors In Skating Championships

Coming through with 20 firsts, 16 seconds and six thirds, Westmount earned a total of 980 points Saturday to capture top honors in the Federation of Community Leagues' speed skating championships and the Winkler trophy.

Rossdale came second with 510 counters on the basis of 30 for first, 20 for second and 10 for third, while Jasper Place was third with 130, Garneau fourth with 100, McCauley fifth with 80 and Scena Centre sixth with 50.

Some of the features of the 27 finals held at 119 Street Saturday night were the senior ladies' 220 yard race won by Blanche Tiviotdale of Westmount, who travelled the distance in 23:25 seconds, 2.5 of a second better than the provincial mark, and the senior men's 880 taken by Bill Kasting of Rossdale when he edged out Albert Hardy of Jasper Place. Tiviotdale also captured first places in the senior ladies' 440 and 880.

The eight events for boys and girls under 10 years of age held at the Oliver rink on Saturday afternoon proved to be a big asset to the Westmount club as they gained a first in each of the competition. George Longgraves, Wilfred Hobbs, Irene Clandish and Irene Kitchen did especially well for the winners, coming through with 60 points each.

Eight others competing in the night events won the two races they were entered in. Those from Westmount winning more than one competition included Jimmy Wood, Dick Rock and Jack Kinnear while Babs Kasting, Bill Kortes and Bill Kasting all of Rossdale, Nola McKenzie of Jasper Place and Jean Mainwaring of Garneau also marked up two firsts.

Albert Hardy, only other entrant from Jasper Place, did very well in winning the senior men's 220 and finishing second in the 880 of the same class as did Pat Gunn of McCauley who took the junior girls' 880 and then came second in the 440.

Following are the results of all finals:

Today's Sport Parade

By Jack Cuddy

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
Copyright, 1944, by British United Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The Brooklyn game of "button-button-etc." finally has ended with the definite announcement that Lippy Leo Durocher will arrive on the banks of the Gowanus on Feb. 26 to begin grooming his flatbushers for the 1944 campaign.

When this news is published in the Stars and Stripes on the various fighting fronts it will be greeted with disappointment or relief, depending upon how the individual warrior regards Leo the Lip and his flood of verbosity.

Durocher had been scheduled to make an overseas tour with comedian Danny Kaye; hence the service men were awaiting or shunning his approach. Durocher got so wrapped up in this proposed tour—or in something down at Miami, Fla.—that Branch Rickey, benign, bespectacled president of the Dodgers, didn't know whether the sartorial Leo was heading overseas or the victim of blonde-actuated amnesia.

For days, Rickey and the sports writers played a guessing game as to the whereabouts of Durocher, last, lingering executive relic of the Larry MacPhail regime at Ebbetts Field. Finally Durocher dissipated Rickey's dreams that he might have been dunked in a nice choppy sea by informing Branch that he was safe at Miami, grooming for a trip overseas.

Rickey, chagrined at this revelation, soon put a spoke into Leo's trans-oceanic levity by announcing that he expected Durocher to become active shortstop for the Dodgers this season, in addition to managing the Brooklynites.

Whether this verbal bomb or a decision of the U.S.O. changed Durocher's mind about the overseas tour is not known definitely. Suffice to say that Durocher, for the past four years, has been trying to quit any short-stopping duties, because of advancing age and fun at night, and manage solely Branch Rickey from the bench.

Moreover, in referring to Durocher's contemplated U.S.O. tour, Rickey had linked his lips as he mentioned the names of various men who might replace Durocher as manager of the Dodgers—only while he was overseas, of course. Unquestionably Durocher read these press reports and recalled that Casey Stengel last year's manager of the Boston Braves, had a coach replace him—only while he recovered from a broken leg.

At any rate, Durocher now informs or threatens Rickey that he will be present long before the Dodgers open their spring training at Bear Mountain. So—despite the loss or luck of men overseas, the Rickey vs. Durocher feud will get off again on an even keel.

N.W.D. Stages Ping Pong Games

The U.S. North West Division held a very successful table tennis tournament in their recreation centre at the Jesuit College yesterday afternoon with some noted ping pong players taking part as a large crowd looked on.

Laurie Wilson, a former runner up to championship honors in New Zealand and now stationed at No. 3 "M" Depot defeated Waldron Johnson, ex-captain of the University of South Dakota table tennis team, taking two of the three game series in one of the feature matches.

Other clashes that highlighted the tourney were won by June Boyce, provincial champion and Harold Brown of New York. Miss Boyce defeated Virginia Edder, N.W.D. women's champ, two games nil while Brown edged out A. Ingster, city title holder in a series that went the full three games.

Barons Blank Capitals 6-0

Buffalo Whips Hornets 9-6 In American Hockey League

BUFFALO, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Buffalo Bisons packed seven goals into the second period last night to whip the Pittsburgh Hornets 9-6 in an American Hockey League game played before 8,024 spectators. The 15 goals set a local record for the season.

Walter Atanas scored three goals during the hectic second period. Freddie Thurier was the only other Bison to collect more than one goal. The others going to Walton, Klein, Davison and Thi-beault.

Pittsburgh scorers were Jamieson, Richard, Gracie, Giroux, Shannon and Hemmeling.

THIRD SHUTOUT FOR PAUL GAUTHIER

CLEVELAND, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Goalender Paul Gauthier recorded his third shutout of the season as Cleveland Barons routed the Indianapolis Capitals 6-0 in an American Hockey League game before 9,989 here last night.

The victory put the Barons, leaders of the western division, 10 points ahead of Hershey, eastern

Flin Flon Down To Nine Players But Defeat Vics

MOOSE JAW, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Injury and sickness-plagued Flin Flon Bombers doubled the score on Moose Jaw Victories in a Saskatchewan Senior Hockey League game here Saturday night, winning 4-2. The win, the third in a week over Moose Jaw, lifted Bombers within 12 points of the leading Saskatoon Nats.

Using only nine players, Bombers scored once in each of the first and second periods and split four goals with Vics in the third.

Bob Wiest with two, Jimmy Mills and Jimmy Skinner scored for Flin Flon while Gord Walter and Tommy Sanders tallied for Moose Jaw in a game featured by the brilliant goaltending of Walt Greenway of Bombers and Johnny Hunchuk of Vics.

Gilbert Dodds Close to Record In Baxter Mile

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Gil Dodds, preacher from Boston, ran the Baxter mile in 4:08 Saturday night at the New York A.C. games in Madison Square Garden to approach the world indoor mark for the distance. The world mark and also the meet record for the event is 4:07.4.

Dodds built up a 10-yard advantage in the first quarter and finished more than a half lap ahead of Rudy Simms of New York University. Jim Rafferty was third.

Much of the meet's pre-race interest centred on the Halpin half-mile in which Joe Nowicki of Rochester edged out Canadian-born John Fulton of San Francisco. But Dodds made the 13,000 screaming spectators forget all about the absence of Bill Hulse, unable to compete because of a strep throat.

It was the fastest winning mile ever run by Dodds, who did 4:06.1 behind Gunder Haegg last summer.

Marriage Wins

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Howard and Dupuy's eight-year-old gelding Marriage won the $25,000-added New Orleans Handicap at the fair grounds Saturday, beating out William Hells Rounders by a nose.

Lack of Mail Found Cause Of Neurosis

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Irregularity of letters from home, emphasizing the feeling of separation, has been found to be an important cause of neurosis among men who fought in North Africa.

This was one of the conclusions reached by Maj. Alfred Torrie, British army specialist in psychological medicine, who gave a detailed description of the treatment of 1,000 cases of anxiety neurosis and hysteria in the Middle East.

Writing in the Lancet, British medical journal, he said treatment was based largely upon psychology. Of the 1,000 patients, 89 per cent were returned to duty and only 5.4 per cent invalided out.

SOCIAL REPORT TIMELY

Because in some men's minds, the need for social security was predominant, "publication of the Beveridge report was timely," the report said.

"Cause leading to the final psychiatric breakdown are multiple and battle experience is often the culminating factor. A higher proportion of psychiatric casualties was found in units with very little corporate life, such as small teams of drivers in the line of communities exposed to frequent dive-bombing."

"There is a higher rate of neurosis among married men, possibly because of their concern over the welfare of their dependents. It is significant that in a high proportion of cases service had exceeded four years—peace-time soldiers who had long been absent from their homes."

Capacity of the soldier to stand battle conditions or overseas service must be assessed early in training, the report said.

German Military Attache Declared Spy Ring Leader

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 21.—(AP)—A federal police report Saturday night named Gen. Friedrich Wolff, German military attache, as the leader of an espionage organization in Argentina and shortly afterward secretariat of information and the press announced he would not be subject to trial and had been released from house arrest so that he could be repatriated.

The police report said three Axis espionage organizations were working in Argentina. It named Wolff as the leader of one of the rings. In addition to Wolff, the Japanese attache, Rear Admiral Katsumi Yukihito, and his assistant, Capt. Tadashi Kameda, were released from house arrest and will not be subject to trial, the under-secretariat said.

Sweden Protests Action of Nazis

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Sweden has insisted that Germany to Berlin to protest two alleged violations of her neutrality by Germany. The first incident was Feb. 15 when a Swedish plane was fired upon by a German anti-aircraft boat in Swedish waters. The second was Feb. 17 when a German aircraft signalled that it planned a forced landing on a Swedish field, but instead flew away.

C.C.F. Said Danger To Post-War Plan

TORONTO, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Tim Buck, national leader of the Labor-Progressive party, said Sunday at the first Ontario convention of the party that "Only co-operation between capital and labor will make possible the realization of the plan offered at the Tehran conference."

The convention drafted a provincial platform. Some 200 delegates from 52 groups throughout Ontario were in attendance.

Leslie Morris, a member of the party's national executive, said in the convention's keynote address Saturday that the policy of the C.C.F. "Endangers the whole success of the post-war reform program for it divides and weakens the labor movement."

"The most menacing present threat to labor unity and to national unity," he said, "is the injection of the false issue of 'Free Enterprise vs. Socialism' into Ontario politics."

U.S. Navy Names New Commanders For Task Forces

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The United States navy last night disclosed further details in the plans for the European invasion with announcement that Rear Admiral Alan Goodrich Kirk has been named commander of the United States task force operating as part of the combined naval force in Britain.

Also assigned to command units of the task force are Rear Admiral John Leslie Hall and Rear Admiral John Wilkes.

Admiral Harold R. Stark is commander of all United States naval forces in the United Kingdom area. The Allied commander-in-chief of naval forces for the western theatre is Sir Bertram Ramsay.

Adverse Weather Again Closes In On Canuck Front

BY DOUGLAS AMARON

WITH THE CANADIANS IN ITALY, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Weather closed down again Saturday on the Canadian Corps front in the British 8th Army's sector in Italy and patrols which probed the Germans Arielli river defences day and night met little opposition from the enemy.

Some contact was made at the western end of the front where a patrol from a western Canadian motor battalion exchanged shots with the Germans around Crechio, about seven miles southwest of the Adriatic coast town of Ortona. The Canadians suffered slight casualties.

Snow fell Saturday morning and the day was cold and dull.

Veterans Receive $39,231 in Grants During January

OTTAWA, Feb. 21.—A total of 956 discharged service personnel received $39,231 during January in grants and benefits provided under the federal post-discharge re-establishment order, the pensions department announced Saturday.

The number of recipients showed an increase of 203 over December, 1943, when the cost of the grants and benefits amounted to $31,542, $7,689 less than in January.

The district of Windsor, Ont., was the only one in the Dominion where no ex-service personnel received out-of-work benefits during January. The districts of Saint John, N.S., Victoria, London, Ont., and Hamilton, Ont., had only one each.

Victor T. Goggin Is Appointed Head Ont. Liquor Board

TORONTO, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Premier Drew announced last night that Victor T. Goggin has been appointed chief commissioner of the Liquor Control Board of Ontario to succeed Hon. A. St. Clair Gordon, whose resignation from the post because of business obligations was announced last week.

Mr. Goggin's resignation as general manager of Wartime Housing Ltd., was announced from Ottawa last night by the munitions department.

The Ottawa announcement said Wartime Housing has since 1941 erected housing to a value of $80,000,000 in industrial areas where the shortage of accommodation was acute.

"Wide Open" Town Is Rejected in Vote

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Council Bluffs residents returning mail straw ballots distributed by the Council Bluffs Non-Partisan Club, this city's daily newspaper, voted 5,210 to 1,266 against allowing the city to be a "wide open" town, the newspaper announced yesterday.

Report Denied

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(CP)—The Swedish foreign office officially has denied that it has recognized the Czech government in London. Reuters news agency said yesterday in a dispatch from Stockholm. Earlier the Swedish newspaper Dagens Nyheter reported that Sweden had recognized the Czech government in London as the de facto (actual) government of Czechoslovakia.

Japs May Quit Some Central Pacific Islands

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The possibility Japan may be forced to pull out of some of her secondary island positions in the Central Pacific, fight a delaying action at others and concentrate on strengthening an "inner" defence ring is receiving serious consideration in military and naval quarters here.

Such an enemy strategy could result from the cumulative effect of the forces now working against the Japanese, and some officers believe it is inevitable. They do not see any other way for the Japanese to accomplish their main purpose

New Method Used To Aid Childbirth

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 21.—(CP)—The United States army's Kennedy General hospital revealed Saturday it was using a new anesthetic technique for "painless childbirth" in practically all its cases. The mother is given multiple injections of metycaine in the caudal region at the base of the spine. This blocks the pain, with the patient remaining conscious.

Canucks on Raid Fought Toughest Fighter Barrier

By FRANK LOWE

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Airmen participating in Saturday night's heavy R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. smash at Leipzig had to shoot their way through the toughest fighter barrier the Luftwaffe ever threw against a night bombing operation, R.C.A.F. fliers said yesterday.

Enemy fighters pounced on the big Halifax and Lancaster formations once they crossed the channel and harried them constantly as they drifted toward the target. Airmen said it was these fighters which accounted for the loss of 18 Canadian bombers, making the raid the R.C.A.F.'s costliest operation.

Legion Urges Allowances For Dependents Continue During 'Detention Periods'

That dependents of service personnel, imprisoned for breaches of discipline, be maintained on full allowances during the entire period of detention, was urged on the federal government in a resolution unanimously approved by the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Legion at the regular monthly meeting of the branch in the Memorial Hall Sunday.

Auctioneer

Sgt. Vera Shirley, who heads a group of C.W.A.C. personnel staging an auction Monday in a city theatre on behalf of food industry war stamp drive week. Bids will be made in war stamps at the auction.

C.W.A.C. Will Aid War Stamps Drive

The Edmonton company of the C.W.A.C. is assisting in the food industry war savings stamp drive this week, and has set an objective of $100 in sales for each night.

This evening at the Capitol Theatre 20 members of the C.W.A.C., under the direction of Sgt. Vera Shirley, will conduct an auction sale during the 10-minute interval between two shows, starting at 9.

Hampers of food will be auctioned by Sgt. Shirley, with C.W.A.C. personnel circulating in the audience to record the bids.

Hampers will be crammed with food that is difficult to get these days.

Bids are made in war stamps, so that purchasers will actually receive the hampers free of charge.

In addition the C.W.A.C. will staff a booth in the lobby of the theatre between 7 and 11:30 each evening of this week.

Truck Is Taken

The person or persons who took a truck belonging to the Wilson Construction Company, 1130 92 street, from 103 avenue and 103 street, about 10 p.m. Saturday, also wheeled away a load of gravel, according to city police.

The operator of the vehicle stated that he had stopped at a cafe and left the keys in the ignition. When he returned he found the truck had disappeared. The cab was painted green, with the name of the company appearing on both doors, and carrying P.S.V. license No. 6551.

On Wednesday evening the boys from the four centres will hold a rally in the Bissell gymnasium. The evening shall begin with a supper, followed by games and

Edmonton Looks Good to Airman Back from Duty in Middle East

To an airman who has been on duty in North Africa for two years, "You have no idea how good Edmonton and Canada look."

That's what Flt. Lt. H. J. Esch had to say on his arrival here Monday after two and one-half years overseas, during most of which period he was attached to the R.A.F. coastal command in the Middle East.

Edmonton-born son of Adam H. Esch, well-known city stationery store operator, Flt. Lt. Esch is back on a furlough of 30 days.

Serving as pilot of a Wellington torpedo bomber plane, the officer has completed one tour of operations.

Such torpedo bombers are equipped for night action and for a long time the chief occupation of such aircraft was to prevent shipping loaded with supplies for Marshal Rommel from reaching his re-pressed Afrika Korps in North Africa.

"I had good luck and was never hit by enemy fire or downed by night fighters although we used to see plenty of the latter," Flt. Lt. Esch said.

"There is really nothing that stands out in my mind. It was a good tour and seemed a long one in many ways, but when it's over you just want to forget about it," he added.

It is hard to get a very clear picture of the European war in general from North Africa the officer said, so he would not care to join in the current predictions about when it will end.

Flt. Lt. Esch saw many Edmonton boys in the Middle East. A few that he flew with were: FO. W. Walker, whose people live in the east end, FO. Kenny Mowderwell, and FO. Jimmy Quinlan of the South Side.

"They are all fine fellows and are doing a good job," he said.

The officer revealed that Canadians almost "fight" to go with one another while serving with the R.A.F.

"We sure like to get in crews with other Canucks," he said.

First War Veteran Wins Promotion
Veteran of service overseas in the First Great War and the present conflict, Chester Roper, member of the Canadian Active Army recruiting staff here has been promoted from lance corporal to sergeant.

Sgt. Roper is a brother of Elmer E. Roper, M.L.A., provincial leader of the C.C.F. party. While overseas in the present war he was a driver with the mechanical transport.

Promoted from lance corporal to corporal was David Thomas, also a member of the army recruiting staff here. Cpl. Thomas also served in the First Great War.

moving pictures, Captain Cox, chaplain of the American army, and Frank Drayton will be guest speakers for the evening.

Fred Robb, 21-year-old employee of Canadian Pacific Air Lines in Edmonton, was admitted to Misericordia hospital about 6:30 a.m. Monday, suffering from a broken leg. He is a former resident of Fort Simpson.

The following men from Edmonton enlisted in the Canadian Army (Active) during the last week: Robert J. Hay, Wallace H. Rea, James K. Magill, Gerard Normandeau, Charles R. Lissou and H. G. Townsley.

"You have no idea the things that people mail, and the last week I have been here I have found the people of Edmonton very nice to deal with and very willing to learn the proper way of mailing packages," he said.

Mr. Figg praised the co-operation of the public. "All the time that I have been here I have found the people of Edmonton very nice to deal with and very willing to learn the proper way of mailing packages," he said.

Although the work of the mailing section has increased during wartime as a result of overseas packages, he added, "I like to see the overseas parcels. Being an old soldier myself (a Forty-Niner) and having a boy of my own overseas, I know what those packages mean to the boys."

(Another of Mr. Figg's sons, Sgt. Observer Arthur H. Figg, was reported missing after a raid over German-occupied France in the late summer of 1941. He had joined the R.C.A.F. in June 1940.)

War-time restrictions on mailing means a lot of extra work for him and his assistant, Miss S. Reitsma, but they managed to keep up the the cardinal principles of the Edmonton post office policy—courtesy, accuracy and speed.

EXTRA WORK
"Occasionally, Mr. Figg admitted, "we've done extra-curricular work. For example, we've supplied a needle and thread to persons who have had to re-sew canvas bags in order to comply with mailing regulations. We've even been asked to weigh a few babies on our scale, and we often give advice and in-

Storage System Believed Cause Of Mail Delay

That a policy of storing mail for Canadians serving overseas in a warehouse at Halifax may be largely responsible for long delays in mail arriving on the other side was suggested at the monthly meeting of the Edmonton Canadian Legion branch Sunday by a serviceman who has just returned to Edmonton.

Speaking to the question of delays in mail, touched on by several members, the recently returned veteran said:

"The mail for overseas is stored in a warehouse at Halifax. Mail that is received first, is stored on the ground and additional mail piled on top as it comes in. As a result of this system, mail most recently received from Canadian points gets loaded on the mail boats first. That on the bottom gets left."

TROUBLE AT HALIFAX
"From what I could learn the trouble is right in Halifax and not at Canadian post offices or at postal points overseas."

Another member said his son had not received one of 14 parcels mailed him while overseas last summer.

Members complained of sons in the Mediterranean theatre not receiving airmail for 37 days. One member said his son in Sicily had been two months getting an airmail letter in Sicily. One soldier received a parcel five months after it was mailed from Canada.

Some complaints were also voiced about mail from overseas to Canada.

Some improvement is said to have been noted recently in mail services to personnel overseas.

The meeting unanimously approved a resolution asking the federal government to make a full inquiry into the cause of long delay in mail to and from overseas.

A letter from Ottawa, read to the meeting, stated that Canadian postal authorities were making a special investigation of the case of an Edmonton soldier killed in action, who had complained bitterly in his last letter to his mother about not receiving mail in Italy.

C.C.F. to Nominate At Tuesday Meet

There will be a meeting of the Edmonton Co-operative Commonwealth Federation (Alberta Farmer-Labor) organization at the I.O.O.F. Hall, 103 street, at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday when candidates will be selected to contest the five Edmonton seats in the next provincial general election.

It is expected that five candidates will be placed in the field, although the number will be decided by the convention.

Elmer E. Roper, provincial leader of the C.C.F., will speak.

On Tuesday, Feb. 22, the C.C.F. will meet, also in the I.O.O.F. hall, to nominate a candidate to contest the West Edmonton constituency in the next Dominion general election.

A nominating convention for the East Edmonton constituency will be held at the I.O.O.F. hall at 8:15 p.m. on Tuesday, March 7.

In the meantime, C.C.F. officials stated that organization is proceeding throughout the province for both provincial and Dominion elections.

VOLUME FLUCTUATES
"Like most of the other departments of the post office, the weighing section is subject to the seasonal fluctuations. For example, holiday seasons mean more gift packages, spring means more garden seeds, roots, and gardening equipment, and other types of seasonal spasmodic mailing."

Last Christmas, about 6,000 parcels were mailed in one day only and that didn't include all parcels handled.

Mr. Figg can remember when an Edmonton retail outlet spent over $12 to mail a sledge hammer head airmail on one of the first airmail trips up north.

He estimated that about 95 per cent of all parcels mailed at the main post office are for points outside the city, and about 30 to 40 per cent of those are for overseas or outside of Canada.

The post office is still the only agency of communication which reaches even the outposts. A great many of the C.O.D. packages go to places where no other access is possible.

In any event, weighing and rating was far from dull. It was surprising how character revealed itself in the type and wrapping of packages, and how, as a rule, one could pick out a package wrapped by a commercial firm.

Being a distributing centre for the northwest, he concluded, the Edmonton post office had a tremendous responsibility in fulfilling the duties of the postal service and it was proud to render that service to the public interest.

East by Plane

Herb Knowles, well-known Edmonton business man, who left the city over the week-end by plane for Montreal and Toronto on a business trip.

Maxwell C. Dewar, city architect, returned over the week-end from a tour of Pacific coast cities that extended over the last four weeks. The chief cities visited were Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle, Olympia, Portland, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

He made the tour to study building regulations in those cities. Building by-laws in operation in Edmonton were said to be up to the standard found on the Pacific coast. He said that he would recommend some amendments to the city's by-laws as a result of his observations.

While on his visit Mr. Dewar specifically studied the structure of city halls, civic centres, hospitals and schools. He found that in the United States schools were "extremely modern and streamlined."

He also studied composite schools and civic centres, and will report his findings on these to the special committee here now dealing with proposals to erect composite schools and civic centres in Edmonton.

It is understood that Fulton had been under doctor's care for some time and that he had a niece, Mrs. C. F. Stevenson, residing at 830 12th Avenue West, Calgary.

The body was taken to Connelly and McKinley funeral home.

Find Pensioner Dead in Shack: Body Is Frozen

Believed to have been dead since about Dec. 9 last, the frozen body of Carl Hansen, 74-year-old resident of 13422 124 street, was found by city police at 4 p.m. Saturday.

An old age pensioner, Hansen had not picked up two pension cheques from the Calder post office. The postmaster, who noticed the mail waiting for Hansen, believed something must have happened to him and notified police.

Police believed Hansen's death coincided with the date on a sales slip for a pound of butter, dated Dec. 9, issued by a departmental store.

BODY FROZEN
The body was frozen solid as it lay in the bed in the shack that had been the dead man's home.

Dr. E. A. Braithwaite, chief provincial coroner, who was called, stated that death had been due to natural causes, and that no inquest was necessary. The body was removed to the Connelly and McKinley funeral home.

Falls in Street: Pensioner Dies
Richard Fulton, 84 years old, of 9716 89 avenue, was rushed to the Royal Alexandra hospital about noon, Saturday, after collapsing on the street, and was dead on arrival, according to city police.

An old-age pensioner, Mr. Fulton left his home for his daily walk, about 8 a.m. Collapsing in the street in the business section of the city, he was picked up by a passing motorist, and taken to the hospital.

It is understood that Fulton had been under doctor's care for some time and that he had a niece, Mrs. C. F. Stevenson, residing at 830 12th Avenue West, Calgary.

The body was taken to Connelly and McKinley funeral home.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Early Separation is Regretted by Youths

Freedom, in Spite of Talk and Memories, Does Not Look So Good to Couple After Few Years of Matrimony

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband is a young doctor. We have been married three years and have a baby girl. For the past six months we have been very miserable because he wants to break up our marriage for no reason except that he is tired of domesticity and does not want to be tied down by a family. He says he looks forward to a life of travelling and perfect freedom. Says he has no fault to find with me, that I have been a good wife and mother and a grand cook and housekeeper. He just doesn't want to be married.

He is willing to give me adequate alimony and complete custody of the child, and tells me that I am so attractive I will soon be able to marry again. He goes into the Army soon.

What shall I do? I love him and don't want to give him up, but neither do I want to hang on to a man who is tired of me.

MRS. K. B. ANSWER: Why not let the war settle your problem? Tell your husband that when he goes into the Army that he will be automatically relieved for the duration of the domestic bonds that seem to chafe him. He won't have to listen to the baby cry, nor have to punch the home clock on the dot, nor be reminded to bring home a pound of butter, or do any of the household chores that appear to have gotten on his nerves. He won't even have to listen to you talk, or notice how you eat your eggs at breakfast. Tell him you won't even write to him, or make any claim on his time or attention.

To all intents and purposes he will be a free man, and he can try it out and see if he likes liberty as much as he thinks he does. You will let the divorce matter ride until he gets back and then, if he still wants one, you will raise no objections to it.

It is a common thing for both men and women, after they have been married a few years, to have a revision against matrimony and to wish they were single again. They have been married just long enough for the romance and the thrill to have worn off the holy estate and not long enough for them to have become acclimated to it, so to speak.

That is why so many marriages go on the rocks about the sixth or eighth year, but these husbands and wives who break up their homes for no other reason than that they are bored with domesticity almost always regret it. They find that the pastures they remember as being so green and luscious are not so alluring when they go back to them. They discover that personal liberty merely means that they can do what they please because nobody cares about them; that night clubs can be just as dull and tiresome as staying at home, and that other men and women are no more exciting conversationalists than their husbands and wives are.

The chances are that if there were trial divorces that gave disgruntled husbands and wives an opportunity to get off each other's nerves that very few divorces absolute would be granted. Perhaps that is what will happen to your husband, and that after he begins to miss you and the baby and good home cooking he will come back to you a wiser and more contented man.

COLLEGE GIRL

DEAR MISS DIX: My daughter, who is 17 years old, is going to the State University where there are about four boys to each girl. She is a good girl, sensible and with sound judgment, and she has always been popular with boys, but I can't help feeling a little anxious about her. What words of advice shall I give her? I don't want her to make any mistakes, or get in with the wrong crowd.

ANSWER: Well, if she were my daughter, the first thing I should tell her would be to pick her boy friends among the gentlemen and pass up the hoodlums, no matter how good-looking they are, nor what a nifty line they have, I'd say to her don't go with a boy who drinks. Avoid the boys who are putting in their time and spending their father's money on whoopee instead of getting an education. Remember what happened to Little Red Riding Hood, and flee from the wolves who brag about how many little girls they have devoured. None of these bode you any good.

Don't go "steady" with any boy. Play around with a number of them. To get branded as Charlie's girl or Joe's girl automatically cuts you off from being able to look 'em over and make your own pick, instead of having to take what is offered you. Also, if the boy gets tired of you and fades away, it leaves you on a hot spot from which it is difficult to extract yourself. Keep in circulation.

Put a high value on yourself. Don't make yourself cheap. Don't run after the boys. Make them do the chasing. The harder a girl is to date, the more anxious boys are to take her out stepping. Never forget that a man will risk his neck climbing to get the peach that is highest on the tree, but he won't even pick up the one that drops into his mouth.

Don't do any heavy petting. No man values a kiss from the girl who makes her mouth a free lunch counter for every Tom, Dick and Harry. Never forget that every man treats a woman the way she makes him treat her. With respect, or without respect. You write your own price tag. Make it high.

And, most of all, bear in mind that being a lady is the greatest charm that any girl can have. Even the roughnecks respect that.

SOLDIER WRITES

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have been in the Army for about fifteen months and I want to go home and get married. I am in love with a girl I have known for three years. We have been engaged for nine months and I want to get married now. If we wait until after the war to get married it will be some time before I am able to get a job and save some money. If we get married now, we can both save enough to live on after the war. Shall I do it? That is my problem.

ANSWER: I don't wonder you are confused if you are trying to solve the problem of how to save more money after you are married than you do now when you are in the army and have practically no living expenses. Not even the sharks who take out the tax bills could tell you how to do that. For believe me, son, you haven't any idea how expensive matrimony is until you tackle it.

THAWING WEATHER DOES NOT BURST WATER PIPES

It is widely believed that after a spell of very cold weather, the thaw which follows is responsible for the bursting of water pipes. This is a case when appearances are deceiving. The pipes freeze and burst during the freezing weather but they do not leak water as they are filled with ice. The thaw merely melts the ice in the already burst pipes, and they spring leaks as a result. Thus, it was the freeze—not the thaw—which burst the pipes.

War Kitchen

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Most Canadians need more food than they usually get early in the morning. How about a stack of griddle cakes tomorrow?

One-half cup all-purpose enriched flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 1/4 cups quick-cooking rolled oats, 1 egg, well beaten, 1 tablespoon melted shortening, 1 teaspoon molasses, 3/4 cup water, 3/4 cup milk.

Sift flour, measure and sift with baking powder and salt. Add rolled oats. Combine egg, shortening, molasses, water and milk. Add dry ingredients. Beat until smooth. Have griddle very hot for first baking, then reduce heat.

The oats in these cakes supply protein and minerals—the molasses supplies iron, and the milk, flour and shortening all carry their quota of nutrients.

Serve a citrus fruit first. Vitamin C is necessary every day for health and morale. Canned grapefruit juice is inexpensive. Try it.

Tomorrow's Menu
BREAKFAST: Canned grapefruit juice, oatmeal griddle cakes, butter, honey or syrup, coffee, milk for children.
LUNCH: Spaghetti with mushroom and tomato sauce, enriched hard rolls, raw carrot sticks, stewed fruit, tea, milk for children.
DINNER: Fruit pie, chicken fricassee, steamed rice, spinach, spruce canberry sauce, hot rolls, butter, herb salad, coconut layer cake, cherry gelatine, coffee, milk for children.

West had to make three discards. He could not discard a club, or the whole club suit would set. He discarded two hearts, but if he let go another heart, the four of hearts would become the 12th trick; so he let go the nine of diamonds. Now

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

It is so easy for parents to get into the habit of bribing a child to get better behavior. It's not only easier, it is pleasanter than to wait until the child acts undesirably and then punish him.

Yet this practice has some marked disadvantages. The child demands rewards for his good behavior, and the price of his cooperation is a constantly increasing one.

There are some natural rewards which do follow desirable conduct. The child who takes a nap will be rested and therefore better able to enjoy parties, visits and any companionship which may follow it. It's smart to point that out to him each time it happens. It is taking an unfair advantage of him to pretend, though, that his going to Auntie's was the result of his taking a nap. Instead of saying, "If you take a nap we will go to Auntie's," knowing all the time you would anyway—it would be better to say, "We are going to Auntie's as soon as you've had your nap." There is no harm whatever in helping the child to see the natural results of his good behavior.

It is the unrelated rewards which can prove so mischievous, such as the practice of offering a child pennies if he will eat or go to bed or just "be good". To pay a child for behavior which benefits him as much as others is an insult to him. A few pennies are not the result of being good.

The satisfaction he gets, the increased amiability of those with whom he lives, the smoothness with which a household runs when everyone in it is doing his share of work, or being considerate of others, those are the rewards of which he should be conscious.

When a child comes to know that his good behavior results in increased spending money he develops a truly warped idea of why one acts desirably.

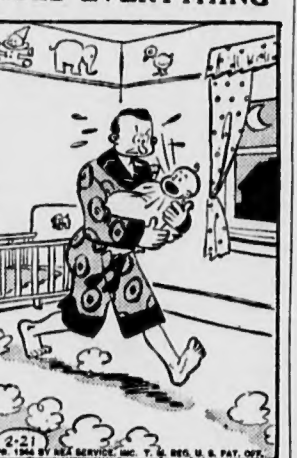

And knowing this, he is in an ideal position to cash in on his knowledge.

"Won't you help mother with the dishes?" she says wheedlingly. "I will," says the young financier, "if you'll give me ten pennies for it." If pennies have always been forthcoming for behavior outside the child's own interests, then more and more pennies the reward will have to be.

These habits of bribing come so natural it is hard for parents to be self-conscious about them. But they can see that to cultivate in the child the belief that goodness has a money value will have unhappy boomerangs for the future.

Our leaflet on the undesirability of "Bribes for Good Behavior" may be had by mailing your request for it together with a 4-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope, to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

HOLD EVERYTHING

Hume led a small club from dummy and won with the queen, led a small diamond toward the queen, West played the Jack and East won with the king. East returned a heart. South won, went over and cashed the ace and king of clubs, led a diamond and finessed the eight-spot, thus making the small slam contract.

THESE WOMEN!

"Wartime or no wartime, young man—there's a limit to making things last!"

McCoy Health Service

Nervousness is commonly produced partly by mental or emotional causes, but in addition to these, there are certain physical causes capable of helping to induce nervousness, with its varied assortment of symptoms.

Some of the possible physical causes include eyestrain, hemorrhoids, prolapse and pelvic disorders. The patient suffering from eyestrain, for example is likely to exhibit many of the symptoms of nervousness, which will fall to yield to treatment until the eyes are properly fitted with glasses. Hemorrhoids, or piles, are also capable of inducing marked nervous symptoms, which will not disappear until this physical cause is removed.

Prolapse, or sagging of the abdominal organs, is often productive of noticeable nervous symptoms, especially in women, because of the pressure of the sagging organs upon the delicate nerves of the pelvic region.

While the symptoms complained of by a group of nervous patients are so many and varied that they would fill a large book, one of the most prominent symptoms generally mentioned is a tired feeling. These patients may complain of feeling tired or worn out after light activity, or may say they are tired in the mornings, even after a night's rest. This feeling of fatigue is almost universally found among patients seeking relief from nervousness.

Other common symptoms are insomnia or the inability to sleep, headache, shifting aches and pains in the muscles, trembling of the legs, shortness of breath, coldness of the hands and feet, excessive perspiration which is especially likely to cause the hands to sweat during excitement or strain, and a rapid beating or pounding of the heart.

In addition, there may be that sense of inner disturbance best described by the popular term, "jitters". One point generally not understood by you, you'll go in for an extravagant bow of mink, perched well over one eye, the right one! Wear a "flat top" hairdo. It's the side-flung "Pompadour" design to balance your mink. The side roll is completely to the left side.

MY DAY

WASHINGTON.—Sunday morning I attended the first anniversary ceremonies of the Marine Corps Women's Reserve. I stood with General Vandergift outside the chapel at Fort Myer while some 1400 girls marched smartly by, and I marvelled at their ability to stand the cold and look comfortable in spite of the fact that I heard murmurs of: "A palm tree on Guadalcanal would look quite pleasant today!"

The ceremonies in the riding hall were appropriate and all the speeches were very much to the point. These girls of the Marine Corps deserve a special commendation for having earned themselves a place among a group of men who were so proud of their organization that they did not want to admit anyone who might let them down. That is past history now and they know the girls are doing them credit.

After lunch, two servicemen from the Army Air Force Orchestra, Staff Sergeant Virgil Fox and Corporal Glen Darwin, gave us a wonderful half hour of music. Corporal Darwin has a fine voice, and though Sergeant Fox is an organist, he played the accompaniment on the piano in a delightful way. They go to Walter Reed hospital every Wednesday, and I imagine that the hours they spend in the wards are hours of great pleasure to the wounded men.

In the afternoon I attended the memorial service for Raymond Clapper. The men who spoke paid him the highest tributes, but I hope the memorial which we were told is being set up in his memory by his friends, will be something living which can promote his ideals and standards of journalism.

After dinner Sunday night I went to the opening of the labor canteen under the auspices of the Washington Industrial Union Council. It was crowded with servicemen and the hostesses were very busy providing entertainment and refreshments. I think this will be a popular canteen, and I am sure that those who work there will find it very rewarding.

Colonel Oveta Hobby came to my press conference yesterday morning and she reminded me of an interesting branch of the service in which the WACs are being used, the Army Airways Communication system, which is a wing of the Army Air Forces. Colonel Farman, commanding officer of the AACs, from the beginning of the program has insisted that all WACs assigned to AACs be given the same training, the same opportunities, and the same jobs as men. Several WACs are actually serving regular shifts as control tower operators at domestic army air bases, probably the most important and exacting duty at any airbase.

Unrationed!

By ALICE BROOKS

The point in crocheting this colorful footgear to wear with your slacks and sports clothes is that it requires no points! Rug cotton tops, rag soles.

Slippers that are quickly crocheted. Pattern 7741 contains instructions for slippers in small, medium, large sizes; stitches.

Send twenty cents in coins for this pattern (stamps cannot be accepted) to Household Arts Dept., Edmonton Bulletin, 60 Front St. W., Toronto, Ont. Write plainly Name, Address, Pattern Number.

Please allow a week or ten days for delivery.

Through medically supervised diet, tooth decay among large groups of children has been reduced as much as 80 per cent.

With meat so scarce, serve the family a satisfying, piping-hot BEEFY soup to start the meal. A STEERO cube, dissolved in boiling water, makes a delicious plateful instantly. STEERO—made from Real Beef Extract—it is also grand for rich gravy with real beefy taste. You need no ration points for STEERO; keep plenty on hand.

GOVERNMENT NOTICE

NATIONAL WAR LABOUR BOARD

Incorporation of Cost of Living Bonus into Wage Rates

THE ATTENTION of all employers in Canada, subject to the Wartime Wages Control Order 1943 (P.C. 9384), is directed to the provisions of the Order requiring them to establish for each of their occupational classifications, not above the rank of foreman, a single wage rate or range of wage rates as prescribed by the rules set out in Schedule "A" of the Order by adding to the previous authorized single wage rate or previous authorized range of wage rates the amount of previous authorized cost of living bonus, and that such established single wage rate or range of wage rates shall be effective for the first payroll period beginning on or after February 15, 1944.

Employers who may not be paying previous authorized cost of living bonus as required by General Orders of the National War Labour Board, issued under dates of August 4, 1942, and November 3, 1943, pursuant to the provisions of the Wartime Wages Control Order, P.C. 9363, are required to include such amounts of cost of living bonus in the establishment of wage rates of their employees under P.C. 9384 effective for the first payroll period beginning on or after February 15, 1944, as stated.

200 Call at Armory, When L. A. To Edmonton Reg't Holds Tea

REPRESENTATIVES of the Canadian Women's Army Corps, U.S. Army units, Royal Canadian Air Force and Canadian Active and Reserve Army units, were present at the tea held Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock in the Officers' Mess, Prince of Wales Armory, sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary to The Loyal Edmonton Regiment. Proceeds will be used for the Edmonton Regiment Cadet Corps. Two hundred guests called during the afternoon.

South Artist's Violin Recital Proves Success

Elsie Persson, Lethbridge violinist, attracted a near-capacity audience to the regular meeting of the Women's Musical Club Saturday afternoon at the Masonic Temple. During the current season the club has made a special effort to bring artists from other centres for regular meetings. That the policy has the endorsement, not only of members, but of the public as a whole, was evidenced by the large attendance.

Mrs. Persson quickly established herself as a capable violinist. She displayed a well-grounded and splendidly-developed technique of sufficient proportions to successfully meet the challenge offered by a long and exacting program.

The program was made up of well-established favorites in violin literature and much credit is due Mrs. Persson for selecting such an array of gems from the available supply.

HIGHER LEVEL

From that point on, Mrs. Persson appeared to reach a new level of performance, which she maintained throughout her last two groups. Always technically proficient, she added a warm tone and a highly sensitized interpretation that stamped her as a genuine artist. In these two groups were the Chopin-Wilhelm Nocturne; Rie's La Capriciosa; the Mendelssohn-Achorn On Wings of Song; Clarence Cameron White's Negro Dance and Spiritual; the Granados-Kreisler Spanish Dance and Sarasate's Caprice Basque.

Prior to the Mendelssohn concerto, Mrs. Persson played the Corigli-Kreisler La Folia; the Bach Wilhelmj Air for the G String, which was given with a majestic, memorable sweep and the Handel-Flesch O Had I Jubal's Lyre.

Mrs. Persson was given a cordial reception and the "no encore" rule of the club had to be temporarily suspended at the end of the concert.

Admirable support was given at the piano by the always co-operative and unusually efficient Henry attack. He was justly called on to share in the applause.—J.O.

Mrs. J. E. Moore, the former Miss Joyce Lees of this city, spent last week in Calgary, a guest of her brother and his wife, Wing Cmdr. J. M. Lees, R.C.A.F., and Mrs. Lees. Fit-Lt. Moore arrived recently in Montreal, and Mrs. Moore accompanied him as far as Calgary.

Miss L. Kulak, U. S. Officer Are Married at Lutheran Church

Grace Lutheran church was the setting at an evening hour Saturday, for the wedding of Miss Lillian Kulak of this city, and Lt. Jack J. Johnson, U.S.A.F., son of E. Johnson of Martinsville, Indiana. The Rev. Clarence Kiewer officiated.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of white bridal satin, styled with a fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline, and wrist length sleeves coming to points over her hands. The skirt was full in style, and was fashioned with two large white satin applique bows. Her full length embroidered veil was held in place by a small wreath of white bridal flowers, and she carried a bouquet of carnations.

Miss Nora Kulak, Miss Irene Kulak and Miss Geraldine Geldart were attendants.

All three girls wore gowns of pink. Miss Nora Kulak's was simply styled with a high neckline, long sleeves, fitted waist and full skirt. V-neckline trimmed with bows, bishop sleeves, and fitted torso were features of Miss Irene Kulak's ensemble, and Miss Geldart's gown was plain with a bolero jacket. All three girls carried bouquets of daffodils.

Best man was Lt. Miller, U.S.A.F. During the signing of the register, Gordon Geldart sang "O Promise Me."

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where 50 guests gathered to wish the couple happiness. The bride's mother, receiving with the wedding party, wore an afternoon dress of Mediterranean blue, and a corsage of carnations.

Y.W.C.A. Tea Attracts 350

More than 350 guests called at the Y.W.C.A.'s 36th birthday tea, held in the gymnasium of the "Y" on Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. John Campbell Bowen, Mrs. E. C. Manning, Mrs. J. W. Fry, and Mrs. W. A. R. Kerr were patronesses.

Hostesses were Mrs. W. J. Kelly, Mrs. R. F. Shaner, Mrs. E. T. Scragg, Mrs. K. W. Reikie, Mrs. F. W. Milne, and Mrs. W. H. Hustler.

The tea table was set with an ecru lace cloth centred by a basket of daffodils, tulips, and carnations. Silver candelabras holding tall white tapers flanked the centerpiece.

Presiding at the tea were Mrs. D. B. MacMillan, Mrs. W. W. Cross, Mrs. S. E. Low, Mrs. D. M. Duggan, Mrs. A. D. Miller, Mrs. Gordon Gray, Assisting in serving were Mrs. J. R. Fryer, Mrs. G. S. Here's Quick Relief from SINUS PAIN
3-Purpose Medicine Helps Clear Out Congested Sinus Areas

ONE best way to get relief from torturing sinus pain is to clear congestion from nasal passages and give sinuses a chance to drain. A few drops of Vicks Vapo-nol in each nostril is usually enough to bring this comforting relief.

3-Purpose Medicine... Vapo-nol is so successful because it does three important things: (1) shrinks swollen membranes of the nose; (2) helps clear out pain-causing congestion and (3) soothes irritation. Many sinus sufferers say it's their best relief they've found. Try it!

Highland Concert Proves Successful
Band music, Scottish dance selections, and vocal solos were highlights of the concert held Saturday evening in All Saints' Parish hall, when the Alberta Highland Dancing Association entertained.

Among his most exciting and thrilling stunts are those known as the "Pharaoh of Flame" in which he commands flames to appear and his act of committing "Hari-Kari" before the audience. His fantastic mystery revue is entitled "Secret of the Air."

Artists included: the Canadian Legion Pipe Band under the direction of Pipe Major Henry Laing; Miss Evelyn Gerard, Miss Cleone Savage, William Smith, Miss Violette Camillo, Miss Betty Cairney, Miss Joy Dobbin, Miss Mary MacPherson, Miss Doris Hollands, Miss Edith Johnson, Miss Minnie Foster, Phil Knowles, William Strachan, Miss Kathleen Busby, Jack Toulson, Jack Strachan, and Alex. Cameron.

Making arrangements for the event were W. McWhinnie, J. B. Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. R. MacPherson, and H. Gerrard.

U.S. May Assist Finland to Get "Lenient" Peace
WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—State Secretary Cordell Hull, the Army and Navy Journal said Saturday, "is prepared if necessary to use his good offices to induce Marshal Stalin to be lenient" in the imposition of peace terms on Finland.

The unofficial service publication added that "Helsinki unquestionably would be disposed to surrender to us, but that is a hot iron we will not handle. What we are endeavoring to do is to bring about a composition between Russia and Finland on terms mutually acceptable and in the interest of victory we will naturally do everything we properly can to achieve it."

Finland is at war with Russia but is not with the United States.

Noted Financier Dies in States
NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Another chapter of the fabulous financial history of the 1920's was closed with the death of Sidney Lowmeyer Mitchell, once "the richest man in the world—on paper," Mitchell, a pioneer in the electric power industry, was the man who pyramided his holdings until, in June 1929, he was said to have had enough $25 options of American and foreign power common stock to realize a profit of $1,235,821,776—if he could have unloaded them without depressing the market.

Call Off Strike
STELLARTON, N.S., Feb. 21.—(CP)—Miners of the Acadia Coal Company's Allan shaft, who walked out Friday, decided over the weekend to return to work Monday morning. The 400 employees walked out in sympathy with two other men who had refused to accept transfers from one job to another. Their grievance will be investigated.

High Officials Attend Rites For Barrister

Attended by representatives of the provincial and municipal governments, the judiciary and the bar, and a large number of the general public, funeral services were held Saturday for John W. McClung, K.C., agent for the attorney-general for the judicial district of Edmonton, who died suddenly at his home on Wednesday evening last. Rev. Robert Pearson conducted the services.

Funeral arrangements were carried out by Howard and McBride, and burial was at the Edmonton cemetery. Pall bearers were: Neil D. Maclean, K.C., Howard Milligan, K.C., Calgary; G. D. Kinnaird, Clarence Richards, F. W. Kemp and Roy C. Jackson.

GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS
The provincial government was represented by Hon. Lucien Maynard, attorney-general; H. W. Wilson, K.C., deputy attorney-general; W. S. Gray, K.C., counsel to the legislative assembly. The city of Edmonton was represented by T. E. Garside, K.C., and Ald. James H. Ogilvie.

George H. Steer, K.C., president of the Law Society of Alberta, represented the members of the bar, and A. T. McLean, president, the members of the Edmonton Bar Association.

The supreme court was represented by Mr. Justice Frank Ford and Mr. Justice G. B. O'Connor, and the district court by His Honor Judge Lucien Dubuc, His Honor Judge A. U. G. Bury and His Honor Judge J. P. McIsaac.

Members of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry paid tribute to their former comrade in arms by attending the funeral in a body, wearing berets and arm bands.

A guard of honor of R.C.M.P. and a police unit under the command of Sgt.-Major Alex Riddell stood at salute when the body was taken from the funeral parlors and also at the graveside.

REPRESENT MILITARY
Lt.-Col. Louis Scott, D.C.M., and Lt.-Col. R. Walter Hale, M.C., represented the military in Edmonton, with Wing-Comdr. Ewart G. Macpherson, and Spdn.-Ldr. J. D. Paterson, the R.C.A.F.

Among those of the general public who paid tribute to Mr. McClung were several whom he had prosecuted in the courts and who had served varying terms as a result of that prosecution.

Before the Magistrate
William E. Cowie was remanded by Magistrate A. I. Millar K.C. Monday morning to stand trial at the next sitting of supreme court on two charges of illegal possession of drugs.

Cowie, arrested in the early morning hours of Feb. 13 at the South Side Canadian Pacific Railway station was said to have thrown a package beneath the wheels of a passenger train during a short struggle with a police officer. The package, retrieved from beneath the coach, was found to contain five vials of approximately 100 tablets, together with 24 capsules containing a "white powder."

Analysed by provincial analysts, the vials were found to contain morphine sulphate, while the capsules showed approximately one-half grain of heroin each, it was stated.

"I'm guilty, or I wouldn't be here," Mike Houlihan, charged with intoxication, said to the magistrate. Because the accused hadn't been in this court for a couple of years, he was given a nominal fine—$20 or 30 days. William Kenaley, on a similar count, said he had hurt his leg, went to the hospital—and then lifted a couple. He was assessed $40 or two months.

Theresa Anake and Jenny Salski, charged with keeping a bawdy house, had their case remanded until Feb. 29. Plea was reserved.

Charge of assault against Jack S. Zenchyn was dismissed. The accused told the court he was a spectator at the fight in which Fred Luchko was pushed through a pane of glass, and not a participant.

Labor to Study Policy, Program of C.C.F. Party

Request that a full study of the policy and program of the C.C.F. party be made by the Alberta Federation of Labor with a view of giving full support to the political activities of that party is contained in a resolution to be presented to the federation convention now in progress here by the Edmonton International Fire Fighters' Union, Local 209.

A resolution from the Flour and Cereal Workers' Federal Union, Local 121, asks for a vote of the convention favoring affiliation with the Farmers' Union of Alberta for the purpose of promoting a better understanding of the mutual problems confronting farmers and labor.

The International Bakery and Confectionery Workers' Union is seeking the elimination of Sunday work in the trade and want the setting up of an eight and a half hour day for five days, and four hours for Saturday, with no shift starting before 6 a.m. Monday.

Packing Plant Employees Union, No. 105, is sponsoring a resolution requesting the provincial government to make a survey of incentive bonus schemes and speed-up methods derived by "stop-watch timing" with a view to the enactment of legislation that will outlaw any plant or scheme of bonuses and speed-up methods that create disharmony and unemployment in the industry.

Several resolutions are being submitted dealing with the sale of beer. One calls for the closing of all beverage parlors on legal holidays with payment of employees. Another calls for an adjustment of the business hours of liquor stores to make same convenient to the workers.

Another resolution asks for an increase in the ration of beer and liquor to stem the rising tide of bootlegging in the province. The government will be asked to enact legislation that will provide that beer must be sold by the glass in a container of sufficient size and shape that the purchaser is given honest measurement at all times.

Still another resolution on the beer situation asks that the government be compelled to make available to each permit holder the quota of beer set for any given period. This resolution is critical of the handling of the sale of beer and states that under the present system workmen cannot hope to obtain their share when the quota is exhausted in the early part of the day.

Six Burned
MT. PLEASANT, Mich., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Six children of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wheaton burned to death yesterday when fire destroyed their home on an Indian reservation near here.

This was recognized in the present formation of a world council of churches.

Mr. Hutchinson is a graduate of the University of Alberta and St. Stephen's College.

Promoted Legion Urges Continuation of Army Allowance

Flying Officer P. J. Biollo, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Biollo of South Edmonton, who was promoted to that rank from pilot officer recently, according to word received by his parents. FO. Biollo was commissioned upon his graduation when he received his wings at Portage la Prairie last May. He left for overseas immediately afterward.

ried out by men, whom they replaced.
Copies of this resolution will be sent Mrs. Cora Casselman, M.P., for Edmonton East and Hon. James A. MacKinnon, minister of trade and commerce, and liberal member for Edmonton West.

The meeting approved another resolution asking that the government construct and staff with veterans, institutions for servicemen needing mental treatment.

BADLY OVER-CROWDED
The resolution stressed the fact that existing mental institutes are becoming badly overcrowded and are in addition, not proper places for treatment of men who suffer as the result of war experiences.

War veterans forming the staffs would be naturally more sympathetic than civilians attendants, it was stated.

Another member suggested that the Legion itself undertake the operation of a home for old soldiers. At the present time, he said, there were a number of aging veterans at the Oliver provincial institute. They were borderline cases and actually not insane. Such a place was certainly not the proper one for these men, he said.

This proposal will be taken up by the Legion executive.

Peter Goyan gave a review of the activities of the ex-servicemen's rehabilitation committee, on which he is a Legion representative.

The committee strongly approved of the recent action of the government refusing a franchise to a private airlines company in the west and urged that Trans Canada Air Lines operate any extended services in the Dominion that may be required.

The committee is also urging the government to make some special provision for the rehabilitation of members of the Veterans Guard of Canada.

A vote of thanks was tendered Victor Quench, M.P., New Democracy Party member for Acadia, in the federal parliament, for his prompt action in drawing certain cases of veterans to the attention of the cabinet.

MEMBER OF LEGION
Mr. Quench is a member of the Legion.

Rev. Canon A. M. Trendall was appointed chaplain of the Edmonton branch for 1944.

Membership of the branch now stands at 1,551 a record-breaking influx for a month of January of 84 having been recorded. It was reported by Ald. S. Bowcott, chairman of the new membership committee.

Tests have shown that fluorine, in the proportion of one part to a million parts of water, builds long-term resistance to decay in the teeth of children.

Reference to God Is Said Essential

We cannot teach truthfully without any reference to God or religion, the Rev. Gerald Hutchinson said Sunday night in a sermon at Metropolitan United church.

Guest preacher at the world student day of prayer service, Mr. Hutchinson, who is the general secretary of the Students' Christian Movement in Canada said that "The process of education itself is at present against the development of religious consciousness."

"This is not because of contrary or atheistic teaching, but because we have imagined that we can teach truthfully without any reference to God or religion," he said.

Mr. Hutchinson directed a plea to parents to "Do a better job of religious education for your children and prepare them to meet the intellectual challenge of university teaching for life under one God who is the father of all men and nations."

He pointed out that the numbers of Christian world citizens have increased rather than diminished, even in Germany.

Mr. Hutchinson said that the bonds of Christian fellowship have been strengthened by their testing and in all parts of the world there are people who regard themselves as belonging to one Christian community.

This was recognized in the present formation of a world council of churches.

Mr. Hutchinson is a graduate of the University of Alberta and St. Stephen's College.

Italy Edition Of Army Paper Received Here

Two copies of the Maple Leaf (Italy edition), official newspaper of the Canadian Army in the field, staffed and operated by the Canadian armed forces personnel, and carrying Canadian Press news has just been received.

The paper is a tabloid size of four pages and contains both news and photographs as well as cartoons.

In the Feb. 1 issue is a feature article about the feats of the Loyal Edmonton Regiment in the hard fighting from Leonforte to Ortona. The article, one of a series about Canadian units, is written by Capt. H. A. Hyman.

It states at the start "The Loyal Edmonton Regiment has carried out with distinction some of the stiffest tasks allotted to Canadians fighting in the Mediterranean theatre."

Great work of Maj. W. G. Longhurst, Edmonton, and Maj. Jim Stone, Peace River, is featured.

The paper is published in Italy under the direction of Lt.-Col. R. S. Malone, editor-in-chief.

Bruised Bodies
Of Women Found,
One Said Slain

BOSTON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Two women, whose bruised bodies were found in widely separated sections of Boston early Saturday, were identified Saturday night by police, who said one of them was a murder victim.

First identification was that of Mrs. Juliette Vinsen, 50, of Jamaica Plain, whose body was found near the bear den of the Franklin Park zoo in the Dorchester section. The other victim, whose nude and battered body was found in a cellar excavation in the south end section of the city, was identified as Mrs. Mary O'Hearn, 49, Boston.

Medical Examiner Timothy Leary said Mrs. Mary O'Hearn had been raped and beaten. Dr. Leary said there was no indication of rape in the case of Mrs. Vinsen and that preliminary examination made a finding of murder doubtful.

U.S. Still Hopes To Settle Soviet,
Polish Trouble

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—A hint from President Roosevelt that the United States is keeping its diplomatic door open for settling differences between Poland and Russia was made public Saturday by Representative Joseph Mruk (Rep.-N.Y.).

The president wrote Mruk that "our government . . . will not rest in its efforts to free all victims of aggression and to establish a just and enduring peace on the sovereign equality of all peace loving states, large and small."

The president's letter was in answer to a request from Mruk for a "frank and realistic clarification" of the United States' stand on the Russo-Polish question.

Japan Loses 306
Naval Ships Since
Beginning of War

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Japan has lost 306 naval ships since her attack on Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, 1941, while American losses during the same period have been 130-96 in the Pacific—an Associated Press count based on communications and unofficial announcements shows. Japan also has lost 968 non-combatant and merchant ships.

Bolivian Political Leaders Arrested

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The Brazilian radio reported last night several opposition leaders have been arrested by the revolutionary Villarroel regime in Bolivia on charges of "spreading destructive rumors regarding the Bolivian political situation."

Fatally Injured

WINNIPEG, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Arthur Cox, 11, of Winnipeg, was fatally injured late Saturday when a large piece of ice fell on him from a truck. Two playmates, his brother, Harold, 14, and Sam Litman, nine, were injured.

City is peaceful on Sunday

From the distance it looked like a pile of flowers hanging in mid-air, but as I came closer, I saw the blooms were bedecking an old black automobile.

The colors were gay and the fresh flowers were intermingled with crepe paper carnations, and they were scattered all along the roof, down over the sides, and hanging in streamers from the back.

One didn't have to guess twice about the occasion. It was a wedding car and even if the old shoes and tin cans prevalent before the war were not in evidence now, the flowers were a complete giveaway.

I waited to see the bride and groom but after a time I got tired of waiting and went on.

There's something peaceful about Sunday on Jasper. Everyone seems to have a new dignity, a quiet relief from the hustle of the work-day.

Several servicemen came ambulating down the street. It was the kind of walking you do when you are not going anywhere in particular, when you just take easy

Won't Stand

Alfred Farmllo, president Alberta Federation of Labor, who told delegates to the 24th convention at the Macdonald hotel that he would not seek re-election as president. He said that pressure of other business would not permit his taking office again. He said that he would continue his active interest in all labor matters.

Member Asking Auto Fee Slash

J. Percy Page, Independent M.L.A. for Edmonton, is to move adoption of a resolution in the Legislature calling for a 20 per cent reduction in automobile license fees, according to a notice of motion appearing in the Legislative Assembly.

The motion will appear on Tuesday's order paper of the House, and may be discussed then. A second motion will also appear in Tuesday's orders, proposed by J. J. Bowlen, Liberal M.L.A. for Calgary, and seconded by George MacLachlan, Independent M.L.A., Pembina, calling for a return showing a copy of all orders-in-council issued by the government between April 1, 1943, and Feb. 10, 1944, authorizing the expenditure of public funds by special warrants.

Twenty-three questions by Elmer E. Roper, C.C.F. M.L.A. for Edmonton, will also appear on Tuesday's order paper. They deal with mother's allowances public works expenditures regarding construction and maintenance of bridges, ferries, highways and roads since March 31, 1936; provincial relief; and oil royalties received by the government in the year 1942 from the Royal Canadian Oil Company, the Foothills Oil and Gas Company, and the Home Oil Company.

Ex-Model Seeks To End Contract
For Film Roles

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Betty Jane Greer, former Washington, D.C., model and wife of Singer Rudy Vallee, sued Saturday for declaratory release from her contract with Howard Hughes Productions, asserting she has been given no screen test and no role in pictures. Miss Greer said she was brought to Hollywood by Hughes, millionaire aircraft and movie producer, with the understanding she would receive a salary of $200 to $250 a week and would be permitted to appear in pictures.

Allies Presented
Political Plans
Of Anti-Fascists

NAPLES, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Six anti-Fascist parties grouped into the Italian liberation committee placed the problem of Italy's immediate political future in the hands of the Allied governments Saturday.

Through their executive junta they presented to the Allied control commission a program which would call for both King Victor Emmanuel and Marshal Pietro Badoglio to step aside in favor of a new government. Copies of their memorandum were forwarded to the Allied governments.

Details of the junta's proposals were withheld under an agreement to treat them as a "secret document of state." Members of the junta, however, said leaders of the parties were willing to assume the powers of government provided both the king and his prime minister stepped out.

City is peaceful on Sunday

From the distance it looked like a pile of flowers hanging in mid-air, but as I came closer, I saw the blooms were bedecking an old black automobile.

The colors were gay and the fresh flowers were intermingled with crepe paper carnations, and they were scattered all along the roof, down over the sides, and hanging in streamers from the back.

One didn't have to guess twice about the occasion. It was a wedding car and even if the old shoes and tin cans prevalent before the war were not in evidence now, the flowers were a complete giveaway.

I waited to see the bride and groom but after a time I got tired of waiting and went on.

There's something peaceful about Sunday on Jasper. Everyone seems to have a new dignity, a quiet relief from the hustle of the work-day.

Several servicemen came ambulating down the street. It was the kind of walking you do when you are not going anywhere in particular, when you just take easy
